BIG PLANE ORDERS FOR LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New airplane orders totaling $35,000,000 will provide jobs for an estimated 20,000 more men in Los Angeles aircraft factories. This will represent a 50 per cent increase in employment, plant heads said in making the announcement this afternoon.

The new orders from foreign governments, to be signed as soon as final action is taken on the neutrality bill, include one for $30,000,000 for planes from the Douglas Aircraft Company and one for $5,000,000 from Lockheed Aircraft.

The new orders are additional to a $110,000,000 foreign and domestic backlog already in local plants.

Hertzog, who resigned as Prime Minister of South Africa September 5 when Parliament failed to approve his stand for the Union's neutrality in the war, withdrew today from the executive committee of the United Party of South Africa after it had voted 28 to 12 in approval of the war policy of Prime Minister Jan C. Smuts.

The vote rejected Gen. Hertzog's stand and ensured Gen. Smuts' control of the party organization.

Prime Minister Smuts assured the meeting South Africa would keep its promise to defend British possessions on this continent if they made an appeal for aid.

Finns Say Talks At Moscow May Abruptly End

HELSINGFORS (AP) — An abrupt end to Russian-Finnish negotiations was regarded as a possibility in informed circles here today after they had received a report of the attack on Foreign Minister Erikko in Moscow's Pravda.

A government spokesman announced at the same time the Finnish delegation had arranged to go to the Kremlin in the evening to present Finland's answer to Russian demands for Finnish territory for establishment of military and navy bases.

The spokesman said that while Finland was rejecting a Russian proposal for territory on Finland's southern coast, the delegation was prepared to continue the negotiations if any basis were provided.

By WITT HANCOCK

MOSCOW (AP) — A note of alarm was injected into Russian-Finnish negotiations today by Pravda, organ of the Communist Party, on the heels of indications the two nations—while not entirely in agreement—at least had a working basis for reaching a solution of their problems.

Pravda declared Finland's foreign minister, Elias Erikko, had "directly threatened" the Soviet Union and that his remarks of Wednesday night "cannot be appraised otherwise than as an appeal for war with the U.S.S.R." (See story on page 2).

The Finnish delegation was called to the Kremlin for a renewal of its talks with Russian officials at 6 p.m. (7 a.m. P.S.T.).

Would Halt All Loss Leader Sales

Steps to halt the sale of any grocery products as loss leaders in retail stores are being urged by retail merchants' interests, seeing the government and members of the Legislature.

They are proposing an amendment to the Food Products Minimum Loss Act of 1937, which would make it an all-inclusive measure.

The original act specified that no food products could be sold at less than 5 per cent profit above the retail price. It did not cover fresh fruits, vegetables, meats, or any staple groceries, nor any articles covered by the Natural Products Marketing Act.

The result of this, sponsors of the new bill claim, is that British Columbia products, including fruit and meat, are being used as loss leaders with a consequent detrimental effect on local industries.

They say that the present act is practically useless in halting the practice, and should either be scrapped or the new and stronger measure enforced.

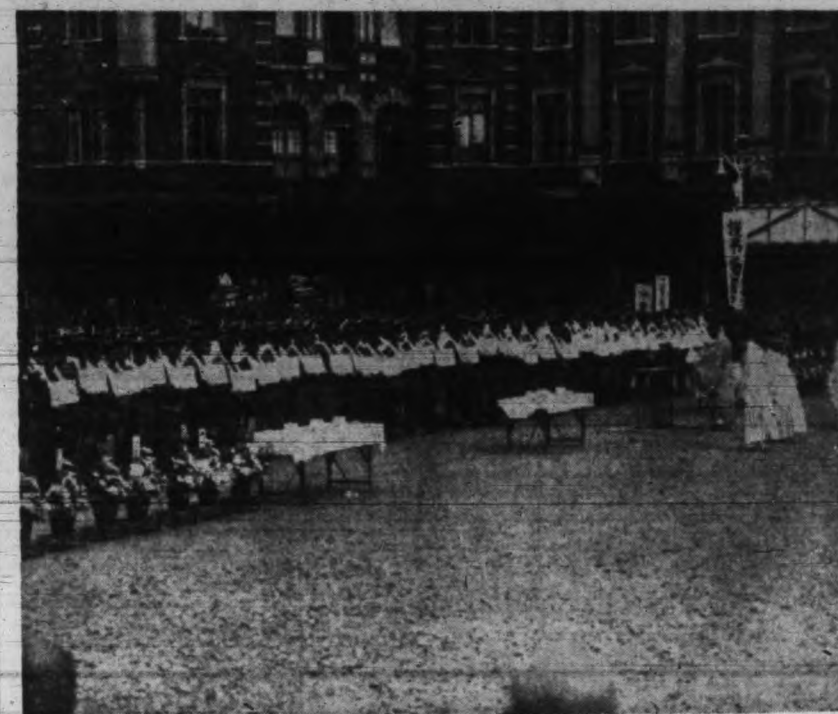

The only thing exempt from the new bill would be highly perishable goods which a merchant must move at any price. Even on these he would be prevented from advertising them except within the store itself.

Another proposal is that the minimum profit margin be increased from 5 to 7 per cent. It is thought 5 per cent would not be enough to take care of the shrinkage of fruits, meats and similar products.

If the measure is introduced in the Legislature it will be by private bill, not as government legislation. This is the procedure that was followed with the original act.

Sponsors of the measure claim that if steps are not taken to halt loss leader selling on the present basis, not only will local industries be hit but small retailers will be forced to the wall. They do not deny, however, that it will prevent the sale of cheap specials that housewives watch.

Interests watching both sides of the case are now in the city and a strong fight is foreseen if the bill reaches the floor of the House.

JAPANESE SOLDIERS COME HOME—IN BOXES—In the Tokio station, facing the palace grounds, priests are shown receiving the remains of hundreds of Japanese soldiers who died fighting in China or on the Mongolian border. This is a familiar sight at railway stations throughout Japan as the ashes of the country's soldiers come home in white boxes. To the surprise of many, the Japanese army announced that 18,000 casualties had resulted in the few weeks of fighting with Soviet troops along the Manchukuo-Outer Mongolia border before a truce was declared.

U-BOAT CREW TREATED TO MEAL ON DECK — This scene, passed by the German censor, is unusual because it gives for the first time since the beginning of the war a view of a flotilla of German U-boats in an unnamed naval base. In the foreground the crew of an undersea boat, just returned from a tour of duty at sea, are enjoying the luxury of a meal on the deck of their boat. In the background are at least seven of the undersea craft riding their moorings.

Germans Feel Out 5,000 Longshoremen In New York Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — A strike of 5,000 longshoremen threatened today to paralyze all coastal shipping operating in and out of New York harbor, thus affecting ports as far north as Maine and south to Texas.

An extra detail of 100 police was assigned to waterfront patrol to guard against violence.

The walkout, effective last midnight, was directed against nine ship companies with a total of 70 vessels in coastal service.

The strike was ordered by Joseph Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association of the American Federation of Labor, after the union's compromise proposal calling for a 5-cent-an-hour wage increase had been rejected.

Earlier the I.L.A. had demanded a wage increase of 10 cents an hour and a 40-hour week. Under the old contract the longshoremen received 95 cents an hour for a 44-hour week.

Maritime observers said the strike would make idle another 5,000 office workers and other employees in the coastal trade if it lasted more than a few days.

Allies Welcome Rush of Supplies Across Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives completed congressional action late this afternoon on the administration's neutrality bill repealing the United States arms embargo. The White House announced President Roosevelt would sign it into law at noon tomorrow.

The House action in accepting a conference report on the measure came quickly after the Senate had voted 55 to 24 its approval of the report.

Adjournment of Congress was due to follow without delay, despite Republican demands that the lawmakers remain in session until the beginning of the regular session January 3.

At the White House it was said Mr. Roosevelt probably would issue proclamations making the new neutrality law effective shortly after he signed the bill.

VOICES PLEASURE

The conference committee agreed shortly after President Roosevelt had expressed, to the press, gratification at the congressional decision to repeal the embargo against arms sales to belligerents.

"I'm very glad that the bill has restored the historic position of neutrality of the United States," Mr. Roosevelt said, authorizing the direct quotation.

Since the House, by a 243 to 181 vote, upheld embargo repeal yesterday there were no major differences between the two branches over the legislation and the Senate-House committee worked quickly when it met today.

$1,000,000,000 ORDERS

As soon as the President signs the bill, belligerent nations can begin buying American munitions, guns and planes. Some administration quarters predict that overseas orders, chiefly from Great Britain and France, will total $1,000,000,000 within a few weeks.

Under the bill's cash and carry system, belligerents must take title to the goods before they leave American docks, where many supplies now are piled. They must be transported in other than United States ships, for a major purpose of the legislation is to avoid "incidents" by keeping American vessels and passengers out of war zones.

By the Associated Press

Delight was evident in Paris and London today over United States congressional action in voting to lift the arms embargo.

In Berlin an official spokesman said there would be no German government comment until the embargo actually was off the U.S. statute books.

A semi-official note issued after a French cabinet session at which Premier Daladier was understood to have devoted much of his analysis of the situation to the prospect of buying equipment, particularly airplanes, in the United States said the action of Congress "is regarded in Paris as an event of great material and moral importance."

"France and Great Britain," the note declared, "gain a definite advantage since mastery of the seas and their financial resources permit them alone, in fact, to take delivery in American ports of products they need."

FAST RESOURCES

In London, Supply Minister Leslie Burgin, who is responsible for providing for every material need for the British fighting forces, declared the embargo action transformed the United States into "an arsenal of unlimited resources" for Britain.

He said Britain probably would buy machine tools, raw materials, gun steel "and ultimately ammunition."

The pending doom of the embargo was hailed as a victory and regarded as the most important news of the day in London and Paris newspapers.

The Paris Soir said the "ability to increase their armaments rapidly is an important advantage to the Allies. That is a consequence of the law which the United States foresaw and accepted. They are neutral in thought. They are not neutral in fact."

The Excelsior of Paris saw the step as a renewal of the American world war slogan, "Lafayette, we are here," although it stressed the inference was not to be drawn that "the United States is entering with us in battle."

Tower Traitor Now Nazi Spy

LONDON — Norman Baillie-Stewart, former lieutenant in the Seaforth Highlanders who was cashiered and imprisoned by England for selling military secrets to Germany in 1933, has been smuggled across the Belgium border by the Gestapo to spy on Allied movements, authorities revealed here.

Baillie-Stewart has been in Germany since his release from prison in 1937. Since the war began he has been broadcasting anti-British propaganda on a German station, bitterly attacking his mother country in a heavy Oxford accent. To cover his absence from Germany, the radio station is broadcasting hate records made in advance by the renegade Scot.

The 30-year-old expatriate, who excited the interest of all England for weeks when he was known merely as "the officer in the Tower" awaiting trial, was slipped into Belgium last week-end by Heinrich Himmler, head of the Gestapo, advised here indicated.

The young Scot was convicted of betraying details of new tanks to Germany and was sentenced to five years in prison.

During his court martial, there were references to a beautiful German girl, known only as "Marie Louise," whose paid lover the young lieutenant said he had been.

Earlier in the week the Australian mission reached the capital and the British mission has been here for some time.

CHICAGO (AP) — Counsel for M. L. Annenberg, whose racing news empire is threatened with dissolution, asked the federal court today for permission to challenge the validity of an indictment accusing Annenberg and others of using interstate wires in the furtherance of a lottery scheme.

Weymouth Kirkland, attorney for the Philadelphia publisher, requested an early hearing on his demurrer to the indictment.

Soviet May Want
Nickel District

LONDON (CP)—The Copenhagen correspondent of Reuters's news agency today reported receipt of a telegram from Helsinki saying the Soviet Union may seek a common border with Norway by making a demand on Finland for the Petsamo region, in addition to demands already made.

In exchange, the dispatch said, the Soviet Union would give Finland 1,158 square miles of land north of Lake Ladoga.

Finnish sources were quoted as saying that if Finland were to give Russia the port of Hangoe, at the mouth of the Gulf of Finland, as a naval base it would be ceding a port which controls navigation to the great harbors eastward, and would thus jeopardize Finnish sovereignty.

The Helsinki correspondent of the Copenhagen newspaper Social-Demokraten reported Finland will refuse to discuss the question of Hangoe, but is prepared to consider cession of a part of the island of Hogland, retaining the northern portion.

The writer said Moscow probably would ask Finland for a strip of land between Styssund on the west and Liola on the east. This would include the former Russian military port of Lino, which the Soviet government considers to be of strategic importance in an attack on Leningrad.

For the past several years the Mond Nickel Company Ltd., British subsidiary of the International Nickel Company of Canada Ltd., has been developing nickel and copper deposits in the Petsamo region, but has not yet brought the mine into production.

These minerals, both widely used in the making of ammunition, would be of special value to Russia as that country, like many others, is dependent on the British Empire, particularly Canada, for its supply of pickel.

It is understood the Mond company has a 40-year lease on the most promising Finnish mine, located about 40 miles southwest of the Arctic port of Petsamo.

In 1937 Robert Stanley, president of International Nickel, revealed the British subsidiary was in the Finnish field. He said a survey of the deposits indicated they might produce as much as 1,000,000 pounds of nickel and 500,000 pounds of copper monthly.

It is understood approximately $5,000,000 has already been expended by the International Company's subsidiary in developing the Finnish mine. A hydro-electric plant is under construction to operate the smelter. It is estimated another $5,000,000 would be spent in bringing the mine into operation. International Nickel officials were known to be hopeful of bringing the development to the stage of production next fall.

Moscow Paper
Says Finland
Threatens Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, organ of the Communist Party, declared today that Finland's foreign minister, Eljas Erko, had "directly threatened" the Soviet Union and that his remarks of Wednesday night "cannot be appraised otherwise than as an appeal for war with the U.S.S.R."

Pravda said Erko's position was "precisely like that of the former Polish foreign minister, Josef Beck. It is known that he too made provocative speeches before the Polish-German war, and the result was that he provoked war with Germany."

Beck, it said, "had the support of certain powers, and because of this, Poland perished." Great Britain and France were not named directly.

On Russia's part, Pravda asserted:

"We shall send to hell any and all manoeuvres and we shall go directly toward our aims. We shall assure our safety and obtain our goal, crushing all in our way."

The newspaper attacked unnamed "political leaders in Sweden, saying that during the Czarist regime, when Russia had all of Finland, including the Aaland Islands, they were licking the boots of Czarist Russia. Now, when we ask for only one naval base, they are screaming protests."

"We know that in doing so they are meeting the request of their western bosses."

The article dealing with negotiations for concessions which Russia has asked of her little Baltic neighbor came on the day a Finnish delegation was scheduled to start its final discussions at the Kremlin.

STRONGEST TERMS

Foreign circles had interpreted Erko's speech Wednesday night as conciliatory in tone and foresaw an early settlement of the Russian requests, but the Pravda article used the strongest language yet employed publicly in the four-week negotiations.

Citing the fact that Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania already had signed mutual assistance pacts with Russia, Pravda said:

"Attempts to deny the mutual advantages of their agreements for all the signatories are made only by their common enemies interested in fomenting war not only in western but in eastern Europe as well, particularly on the Baltic coast."

It said that "naturally, the government of the U.S.S.R. was bound to address similar proposals to the fourth Baltic country bordering on the U.S.S.R.—Finland."

"It is sufficient to glance at the map of Finland to realize that the problems of security of the U.S.S.R. are especially acute on the Finnish border."

"The Soviet Union not only has the right, it is obliged to take measures to assure security of the sea and land approaches to Leningrad, whose population equals the entire population of Finland."

"However, contrary to common sense, certain leaders of Finland express no desire at all to reach an agreement with the U.S.S.R."

(Erko's speech asserted Finland was ready to make arrangements for improving Leningrad's defensive position and increasing the safety of the Gulf of Finland, but that "any guardianship which a foreign power might receive over Finnish territory must be regarded" as endangering Finland's neutrality. He suggested that guarantees be given with any new treaty.)

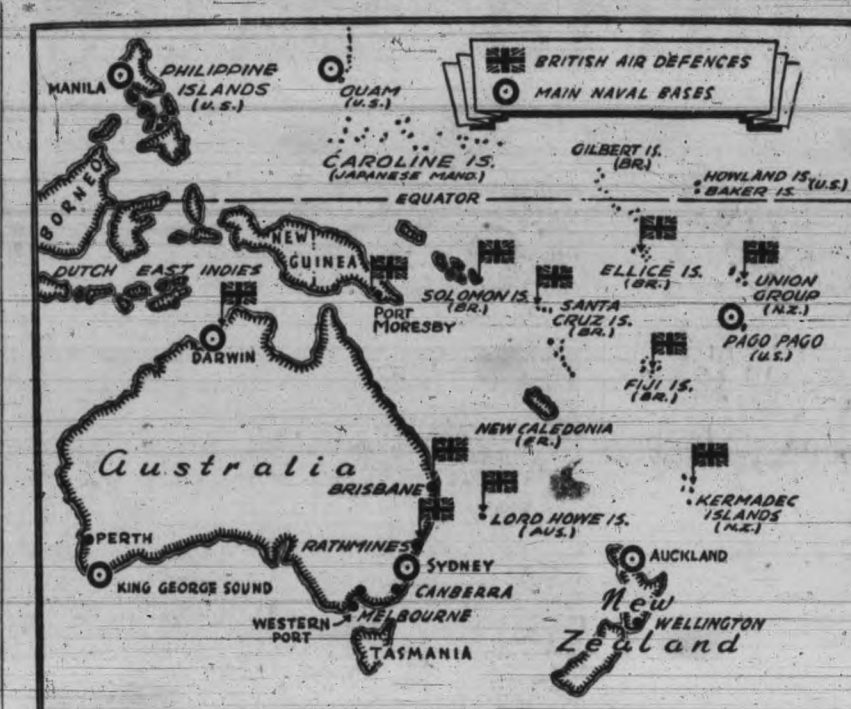

Pravda asserted the Finnish government had taken "a number of emergency measures comprehensible only when a country is preparing for war: the evacuation of urban populations, mobilization of reservists and reorganization of industry to serve war needs."

Pravda declared, "in conclusion, Erko directly threatened the Soviet Union, stating that he knows the forces on which Finland can rely, forces which can ensure Finland's neutrality and independence in case of menace to her security."

London Paper Reports Firth Air Battle

LONDON (CP)—The Evening News reported "intense aerial activity" in the Firth of Forth area today and said an engagement between German raiders and British fighters was believed to have occurred a few miles at sea.

There was no immediate official confirmation of the report. An air ministry spokesman said no enemy raiders had been sighted off the Scottish coast today and suggested planes seen there probably were a British patrol.

SOUTH PACIFIC DOMINIONS BUILD NETWORK OF DEFENCE BASES—Faced by the threat of German commerce raiders in the South Pacific and the ever-present shadow of Japan, Australia and New Zealand are rushing to completion a string of naval and air bases to link their defenses with the British bases in the Central Pacific. Most recent development is an expedition from New Zealand to build an air field and barracks on the Kermadec Islands. Between Australia and New Zealand is Lord Howe Island, where mystery fortifications are being pushed. When completed, the new bases will form a chain with Fiji and the Solomon, Santa Cruz, Ellice and Union groups, and with the Singapore and Hongkong stations to the west.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie
Dies in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Hugh Guthrie, 73, chairman of the Board of Transport Commissioners and former Minister of Justice, died in a hospital here today. He had not been in robust health during the past few years but he was able to carry on his duties at the head of the board to which he was appointed in 1935. He was at his office as recently as last week.

He entered the hospital yesterday and died at 11 o'clock this forenoon.

MANION'S TRIBUTE

Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, paid tribute to Mr. Guthrie saying: "Although he had passed the allotted span, Hugh Guthrie had been for so many years an outstanding figure in the public life of our country that he had come to be regarded as an institution. He and I were members of the House of Commons for 18 years. We served in three governments side by side."

"He was an outstanding administrator."

A native of Guelph, Ont., Mr. Guthrie was the dean of the House of Commons when he retired from active political life in 1935. First elected in 1900, he served for almost 35 years continuously as member for Wellington South, a constituency his father, Donald Guthrie, had represented from 1878 to 1882.

During his long parliamentary career Mr. Guthrie served in various cabinet posts under three prime ministers and for a time was acting leader of the Conservative Party.

He was elected in 1900 as a Liberal follower of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but during the first Great War joined the Union government formed by Sir Robert Borden. He was one of the few survivors of the Unionist cabinet, others being Sir Thomas White of Toronto and Senators Arthur Meighen and C. C. Ballantyne.

After the end of the World War Mr. Guthrie remained with the Conservative Party. He served in the post-war cabinet of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and in the short-lived "shadow government" formed by Mr. Meighen in 1926.

After Mr. Meighen's retirement as party leader following the defeat of the Conservative Party in 1926 Mr. Guthrie led the party's forces in the House of Commons and was a candidate for the party leadership at the 1927 Conservative convention at Winnipeg. The choice of the convention fell on Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and Mr.

U.S. Embargo Repeal
Aids Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Repeal of the United States embargo on the export of war materials to belligerents is expected here to simplify and perhaps expedite development of the co-operative Empire air-training scheme in Canada.

When the revised neutrality legislation becomes law with President Roosevelt's signature, it will be possible to obtain training aircraft in the United States.

Failing repeal they would have had to be made in Canada or imported from the United Kingdom. Canadian aircraft factories already are busy on orders for fighting aircraft for the Canadian and British governments.

Further expansion would have been necessary if the embargo had remained. There is also the difficulty in obtaining aircraft engines. So far Canadian facilities have not been developed to the point where engines may be produced in large numbers although many bodies are made here.

What effect removal of the embargo will have on other Canadian war industries such as those engaged in the manufacture of shells, ammunition and possibly guns, remains to be seen.

Generally speaking the effect probably will be that U.S. industry will be called on for the supplies it is specially equipped to produce and which cannot readily be produced in Canada except after expensive capital expenditures.

Mr. Burchell is the senior member of the legal firm of Burchell, Smith, Parker and Fogo of Halifax. In addition to his legal practice, he has taken an active part in the direction of maritime industries.

South Africa sent an "accredited representative" to Canada over a year ago and a high commissioner to Canada was appointed recently by the government of Eire. Australia and New Zealand are expected to follow suit shortly.

For many years Canada has maintained a high commissioner in London, but Mr. Burchell's appointment is the first to any of the other Dominions. Similar appointments will be made to New Zealand, South Africa and Eire.

Construction work was ended earlier this week on the Big Bend Highway, which not only opens up the untouched resources of the rugged country north and east of here, but gives western Canada a through highway for the first time.

The road will not be open to traffic, however, until next spring, when the first cars heading westward will pave the way for a new flood of tourist dollars to enter British Columbia.

The Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Association in Washington State is also expected to be represented tomorrow while many residents of the Okanagan and Kootenay districts of British Columbia have promised to attend.

ROME (AP)—Italy, intent on improving her status as a neutral and strengthening her influence in southeastern Europe, set out today to achieve more friendly relations with Greece.

An exchange of Greek-Italian letters, dated September 30, affirming friendship and expressing a desire to give "more concrete form" to relations between Athens and Rome was published today.

The letters pointed the way toward negotiations for "happy and fruitful collaboration in all fields"—apparently prefacing a new nonaggression.

Foreign observers expected Italy to seek wider trade advantages from Greece as she has done in a new commercial agreement with Yugoslavia and another about to be signed with Bulgaria.

Ottawa Assists B.C. Apple Sales

KELOWNA (CP)—Belief more than 75 per cent of the Okanagan export apple crop will be shipped overseas was expressed by Major M. V. McGuire in an address to shippers here.

Mr. McGuire, manager of the Occidental Fruit Company at Vernon, said a special agreement had been reached with the Canadian government with regard to assistance to be given the industry, and added he believed the export business would be "greatly facilitated."

It was learned here 25 cars of Okanagan apples were aboard the steamship Cairn Mona, which sank after an explosion in the Atlantic.

Casey, the Australian supply chief, had exchanged information on orders and legislation. An entire plan of production organization of the ministry had been borrowed by Australia.

Canadian Experts
Stay in London

By FRED BACKHOUSE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—Members of the Canadian mission here for Empire discussions will remain in England after conclusion of the present talks in order to deal with special questions affecting Canada, it was learned from a reliable source here today.

It is understood Hon. T. A. Crerar, Canadian Minister of Mines and Natural Resources, will sail for Canada as soon as his work is finished, but that the rest of the experts will remain here on an indefinite stay.

This source said there is at present no intention to establish a permanent commission of Dominion experts in London for the duration of the war. It was added, however, that such a possibility always was "on the cards."

The other Dominions and India will also be leaving here smaller groups of experts when the main parleys have been concluded. The primary job of these groups will be to deal with details of problems affecting their several governments and also for purposes of liaison with each other.

Thus, it was pointed out, there will already be here the most necessary elements for quickly setting up a permanent consultative body representing all the Empire should such a step be considered necessary.

AIR TRAINING

The reason the Canadians will form the most important group of experts remaining here is, of course, the vast air training scheme in Canada, foremost item on the list of subjects under discussion between the Empire representatives.

ROME (AP)—Italy, intent on improving her status as a neutral and strengthening her influence in southeastern Europe, set out today to achieve more friendly relations with Greece.

An exchange of Greek-Italian letters, dated September 30, affirming friendship and expressing a desire to give "more concrete form" to relations between Athens and Rome was published today.

The letters pointed the way toward negotiations for "happy and fruitful collaboration in all fields"—apparently prefacing a new nonaggression.

Foreign observers expected Italy to seek wider trade advantages from Greece as she has done in a new commercial agreement with Yugoslavia and another about to be signed with Bulgaria.

Ottawa Assists B.C. Apple Sales

KELOWNA (CP)—Belief more than 75 per cent of the Okanagan export apple crop will be shipped overseas was expressed by Major M. V. McGuire in an address to shippers here.

Mr. McGuire, manager of the Occidental Fruit Company at Vernon, said a special agreement had been reached with the Canadian government with regard to assistance to be given the industry, and added he believed the export business would be "greatly facilitated."

It was learned here 25 cars of Okanagan apples were aboard the steamship Cairn Mona, which sank after an explosion in the Atlantic.

Casey, the Australian supply chief, had exchanged information on orders and legislation. An entire plan of production organization of the ministry had been borrowed by Australia.

Taking Australia as an example because it has a supply ministry, Mr. Burgin said he and Richard

Vancouver Pair
Given Life Sentence

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dolores Brookes, 19, and Harry McMillan, 23, both convicted of manslaughter by an Assize Court jury, today were sentenced to life imprisonment by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson here.

The charges against the pair arose from the death of Woo Dak, Chinese cafe owner who was slain here last April and for whose death 18-year-old Arthur Rennie has been sentenced to be hanged January 11.

The part-Indian girl, first of 14 prisoners to face sentence in court today, heard an appeal for clemency by defence counsel and the reply to Mr. Justice Manson.

"The crime in which you are implicated is of the most serious type. No sentence I could properly impose is going to permit you to be free again or give you another opportunity under circumstances suggested by counsel."

"The death of this Chinese was brought about in the most brutal fashion. I haven't any doubt you were brutally and intimately associated with the crime."

Other sentences imposed were: Mrs. Hazel Dale Marshall, 63, two charges of attempting an illegal operation, three years on each charge, concurrent.

Mrs. May Fayolle, 41, charged with false pretences, six months. Daniel J. McCarthy Jr., 25, postal clerk, charged with theft from the mails, three years.

Gerald W. Fraser, 37, accountant, charged with theft of $10,580 and four charges of falsifying the books of Chess Brothers Ltd., five years total.

WILL NOT DRIVE
Arthur S. Harrison, 55, charged with criminal negligence in connection with a traffic accident, in jail and prohibited from driving for three years.

Louis Albert Minichello, 26, carpenter, charged with robbery with violence, seven years.

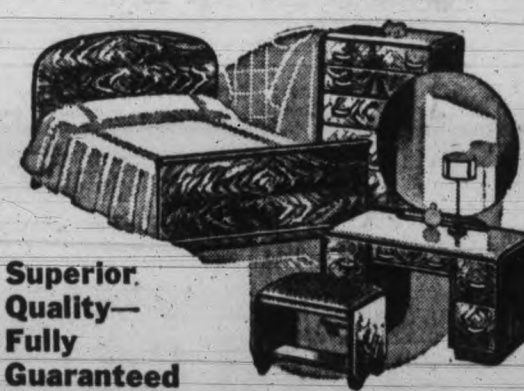

Nathan D. Campbell, 49, prospector, charged with breaking and entering, seven years.

George Freeman, 28, two counterfeiting charges, seven years total.

Tony Cappello, 28, two counterfeiting charges, seven years total.

Joseph Smith, 57, bricklayer, charged with retaining stolen goods and possession of burglary tools, five years.

SPIES BUSY HERE

WINDSOR—Spying in Canada is extensive, Leon G. Turrou, former ace G-man, responsible for the arrest of Nazi agents in the U.S., said here. He said his investigations had revealed a spy ring in Canada, with headquarters in Montreal. He turned his information over to the British secret service, "which presumably acted on the tip."

Nazi agents in Canada are under the same leadership as those across the border, he claimed. He said evidence that spies in Canada sent information to the fatherland by way of New York, had been gathered by G-men.

The F.B.I. operative declared that the fact Canada had been selected as the Empire air base, inevitably would lead to an influx of enemy agents.

2 Aged Men Lose Lives

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two old age pensioners died here Thursday from gas poisoning. The men were Richard Longstaff, 81, and 71-year-old Laing Goudin, found dead in different houses.

The fire department inhalator crew said the men apparently died after gas flames were blown out by wind while they slept.

MILLION MORE!

CALGARY (CP)—British Columbia apple growers expect to sell 1,000,000 more boxes of apples in western Canada than they did in 1938, said C. A. Hayden of Vernon, B.C., secretary of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association.

A year ago 2,000,000 boxes of B.C. apples were sold on the prairies, but the objective this year is for the sale of 3,000,000 boxes, said Mr. Hayden.

Union Officer Fined for Strike

GOLDBRIDGE, B.C. (CP)—William J. Cameron, president of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union at the Pioneer Mine, convicted on a charge of unlawfully declaring a strike in contravention of the British Columbia Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, was fined $150 by Magistrate G. J. Sumner here.

The magistrate ordered the executive of the union, affiliated with the Congress for Industrial Organizations, to pay the fine by November 8 or go to jail for three months in default.

Defence counsel John Stanton, at the end of the case late yesterday, gave immediate notice of appeal and asked the magistrate to modify the jail sentence in the event of default.

The request was refused on the ground that no precedent had been established for modification of the default penalty.

Dugald McAlpine, Crown counsel, announced the hearing of five other union executives on similar charges would proceed. Earlier Mr. McAlpine had charged that the union had demanded a $1-a-day increase at the mine with the deliberate intention of causing a strike.

The Crown claimed the men called the strike October 8 prior to the appointment of a conciliation commissioner, in violation of the act.

Mr. McAlpine told the court the demand was made with the "deliberate intention" of precipitating a strike "since it could not possibly have been granted at two hours' notice."

W. A. Patterson, secretary for the local branch of the Congress for Industrial Organizations Union, testified the union was formed in April because the co-operative committee, previously operating among the miners, was "useless."

Patterson said a telegram sent to the Department of Labor was intended as an application for a conciliation commissioner under terms of the act. The reply they received from the government was taken as a complete refusal to appoint such a commissioner, he said.

Cameron said the union believed their application for a conciliator was legal in every sense, while the reply received from the Minister of Labor was a direct refusal.

C. A. Haddrell, A. M. Cameron, S. Nornlund and A. Penman are the others charged besides the union president and secretary.

AIR RAID PRACTICE HELD IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—An air raid alarm sounded in Ottawa yesterday. Gunners rushed out with their weapons, mounted them on permanent tripods and aimed skywards at an imaginary enemy while Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada and commander-in-chief of the forces, looked on.

It was all an exhibition for His Excellency's benefit as he inspected a repair depot of the Royal Canadian Air Force here, but the anti-aircraft gunners demonstrated their readiness to make it hot for any marauding aircraft which might venture near their shops by the Ottawa River.

The Governor-General appeared for the first time in the khaki service uniform of his office, and showed keen interest in the work of the depot, which resembles nothing more than a big machine shop.

The Governor-General's service uniform consists of the standard officers' khaki tunic and breeches with high boots. The cap was of blue with a red band and the visor is decorated with silver braid. Special shoulder badges and collar tabs decorated with oak leaves in silver complete the insignia of his rank.

The uniform, it is understood, is worn only by the Governors-General of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Canada and the Viceroy of India.

Red Cross Fights Whisper Campaign

TORONTO — Proof that attempts were being made to undermine public confidence in the Red Cross and other organizations is in the hands of Dr. Fred W. Routley, he said. The Red Cross commissioner declared that evidence of a "whispering" campaign had been pouring in from Nova Scotia to British Columbia for days.

Not until a week ago, he revealed, was it suspected that the rumor spreading was deliberate. "Then," he explained, "we noticed that brand-new stories were springing up simultaneously in British Columbia and the rest of the provinces as well."

The R.C.M.P. were notified and an inspector "told me another new story I hadn't heard yet, that we had hired a staff of highly-paid women—to unravel poorly-knit socks and reknit them for the troops," Dr. Routley said. "Within a few hours the same story had come in by letter and wire from branches all over Canada."

Determined efforts had been made to run the stories to earth, but so far without success, Dr. Routley said.

Other stories included allegations that the Red Cross had cornered all the wool available and was shipping it overseas and storing it, he said. The Red Cross, he explained, had bought large quantities by contract and was distributing it to various organizations as fast as it came in.

"These stories are not directed exclusively against the Red Cross," he added. "We work closely with several organizations, including the I.O.E., and attempts have been made to circulate stories that would strain relations between various groups."

Meet at Peace Arch

VANCOUVER (CP)—Five thousand Canadian and United States schoolchildren will gather at the Blaine, Wash., Peace Arch November 11 for an annual ceremony marking more than a century of peace between the two nations.

According to plans the ceremony will start at 2 p.m. with the singing of Canadian and United States national anthems and an exchange of flags.

Ontario C.C.F. Opposes Suspension of Elections

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario executive of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation has issued a statement opposing Premier Hepburn's proposal to suspend municipal elections after January 1 for the duration of the war.

The statement describes the proposal as the latest in a series of significant steps by which Premier Hepburn and his colleagues have shown their increasing impatience with democratic institutions.

Germany gained rather than lost in population density when she acquired Czechoslovakian provinces of Bohemia and Moravia.

Premier Insists Manion Name Men In Patronage Talk

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, promising to investigate any "specific charges," has invited Conservative Leader Manion to make public details of political patronage in government war work against which the latter protested in a statement issued yesterday.

The text of the Prime Minister's reply to Dr. Manion follows:

"I have read the statement given to the press by the Leader of the Opposition. By way of comment, I should like to repeat what I said in the radio broadcast I made on Tuesday evening last: "In every aspect of Canada's war effort, my colleagues and I have taken and will continue to take all possible precautions to see that partisanship, personal influence or political patronage provide no avenue to promotion, personal advancement, or private or corporate profit."

"I have every reason to believe that in every department of the government the utmost care has been exercised to carry out the known wishes of the government in this particular. I have no doubt that Dr. Manion, as the leader of a political party, encounters the same difficulties as I do with respect to satisfying the wishes of many of those who are his supporters.

"There is not a day passes that my colleagues and myself do not receive complaints that supporters of the government do not appear to have a fair share of appointments and government orders and that these are going to political opponents.

WANTS CASES CITED

"It might be of assistance both to Dr. Manion and myself if, with respect to those matters which are a part of Canada's war effort, Dr. Manion would make public the specific details of any instances of political patronage in government appointments or in the awarding of contracts.

"I may say I should wholly welcome this course being adopted by the Leader of the Opposition, and will undertake to see that where specific charges are made they will be at once investigated.

"The Leader of the Opposition is quite right in saying that the government, as is its clear duty, is taking full responsibility for the organization of Canada's war effort. Responsibility in so grave a matter cannot be divided. I have already made it plain the government will welcome constructive criticism. Had matters arisen which I felt required consultation with the Leader of the Opposition I would immediately have requested a conference."

Badges for Canadians Who Cannot Enlist

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians who have tried to enlist but have been rejected for military service may wear a badge to show they are not lacking in a desire to serve, according to a plan under consideration by the government.

The little lapel badge would protect its wearer from any stigma of "slacker" through demonstrating his good intentions.

Slightly different badges serving a similar purpose would be distributed to those engaged in certain essential services from which they cannot be spared for military service.

When Victoria Was a Village!

Back in the days when Victoria was just a village, being charitable meant sharing what you had with a less fortunate friend. As we grew into a big city, busy with our own affairs, we could not meet the individual needs of our many neighbors. And so charitable organizations were started to help those in need.

There are now 24 of these welfare agencies in Victoria, doing unto others the very things you would do, if those in need were to come to your individual notice. These agencies need your support so that they may continue to give a helping hand to less fortunate friends and neighbors.

We realize that this may mean real sacrifice from you, but we are confident that you will respond generously, so that, on the Home Front as well as on the battlefield, suffering and tragedy may be relieved and lives remolded "nearer to the hearts' desire."

Mr. Maitland's Fine Gesture

PROVINCIAL CONSERVATIVE LEADER
R. L. Maitland said nothing in his comparatively short and moving speech in the Legislature yesterday afternoon with which the government could reasonably disagree. In the main it was an intimation that the cabinet could count on the support of the official opposition in its advancement of British Columbia's share in the nation's war effort. Coupled with this assurance, however, was the warning that ministerial deviation from the course obviously demanded by the exigencies of these times would automatically require Mr. Maitland and his supporters to exercise their right to criticize.

The Vancouver member's peroration was marked, as it was intended to be, more for its commendable fervor in support of the Allied cause than for any originality of theme or novelty of treatment. He was speaking mainly to the converted. But his regret that his desire to eschew partisan politics would not be shared by the members of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation had emboldened him to devote a substantial portion of his remarks to the policies which that party has pursued during the last year or so—policies which, in the opinion of Mr. Maitland, were inimical to the public welfare and likely to retard the country's resolve to see the present job through to a successful conclusion.

So if the Conservative leader erred in the amount of time he devoted to the C.C.F.'s past, present, and possible future, it can be charged to his zeal for the cause which is uppermost in most people's minds. It will be the only contribution from Mr. Maitland's party to the debate on the address in reply to the Throne Speech.

Mr. Maitland Retrospective

ALTHOUGH MEMBERS OF THE CABINET did not find it necessary to make lengthy note of Mr. Maitland's recital of his prewar peregrinations throughout the province—during the course of which he found the people virtually eager for a Conservative administration—it can be assumed some of his remarks were marked well and inwardly digested. The outbreak of hostilities, of course, had caused Mr. Maitland to pause and take stock. Part of his address, then, was a species of interim report to remind his adversaries that on the resumption of political conflict his tactical advantage would be one not to be sneezed at. It must not be said, however, that the Conservative leader used the occasion to try to score. He did nothing of the kind.

It was Mr. Maitland's duty, before trimming his sails "for the duration" to give this account of his stewardship. Government members will not begrudge him the roseate prospect his oratorical mastery enabled him to portray. And far be it from us to suggest to one so accomplished in the fine points of party generalship that these, after all, are dangerous times in which to make predictions. Nor should the Conservative leader be reminded that those tripartite trade treaties—operative since last January—between Canada, Britain and the United States did not produce the calamitous economic repercussions which not very long ago he had prophesied and expected. Happily for Britain and the Empire's cause, moreover, they enabled this country to assist the United Kingdom to sell more goods to our neighbor and to us. This extra business has been a great help to Britain, has put her in a better commercial position to fight the good fight which Mr. Maitland, the government of British Columbia, and all right-thinking persons will help to prosecute to the uttermost.

Patronage Must Be Stopped

HON. R. J. MANION, LEADER OF THE National Conservative Party of Canada, asserted in a statement given to the press yesterday that political patronage and favoritism "continues" in the King government's administration of Canada's war effort. Included in his charges was an intimation that he had recently received letters—one from British Columbia—stating the writers had been refused government orders because they were not on the preferred patronage list. He added:

"I submit that if Canada is to get a united war effort it is high time that this pernicious system should be eliminated. When all are making sacrifices it is no time for political favoritism."

Only a few days after he had succeeded Hon. Ian Mackenzie, as Minister of National Defence, Hon. Norman Rogers very properly decreed that political or personal bias in army appointments, promotions and purchases would not be tolerated, and that all persons would be on the same basis as far as war supplies were concerned.

It would thus seem to be the first duty of Dr. Manion to turn over to Mr. Rogers any information he may have to justify the charge that political patronage and favoritism "continues" in the government's war policy. For Prime Minister Mackenzie King would be the last person in the world to tolerate a condition such as that described by the Conservative leader.

Repeal Wins Handsomely

WITHIN THE NEXT FEW HOURS THE President of the United States will sign a bill to repeal the arms embargo measure which has been engaging the attention of the Senate and House of Representatives at Washington for the last month. The amending legislation passed the upper chamber by 63 to 30 a week ago, and the House gave its consent yesterday with a vote of 243 to 181, a majority considerably larger than the administration and its friends and supporters had expected. Mr. Roosevelt satisfied himself with this simple statement to newsmen at his press conference today:

The foregoing remark is typical of the attitude toward this question which the President has maintained ever since he sought, unsuccessfully, to persuade Congress to change the neutrality law last summer. He has contended that the present arrangement denies United States traders their constitutional right to trade with any countries with which the republic is at peace, whether such countries are at war with one another or not. At no time has he been impressed by the specious argument that because Great Britain and France are in a position to send the money to pay for their war materials, and carry them away in their own ships, they should not have the privilege because Germany would be prevented by the Anglo-French naval blockade from taking advantage of it. The paradoxical situation presented by Japan's ability to go into the American market for war supplies, merely because she is not "officially" at war with China, naturally had a boomerang effect on that element in Congress which opposed the sale of munitions and other proscribed commodities to all belligerents legally fighting one another.

Outside and impartial observers will deduce from this action of the Congress one more demonstration of the practical sympathy which a majority of the people of the United States are manifesting toward the cause in which the British and French empires are engaged. What has been done at Washington, however, has been done by the free will and accord of the republic itself. The Allies, particularly the people of this Dominion, will nevertheless bless this latest marriage of the moral to the material.

Down in Tahiti

ONCE UPON A TIME, NOT SO VERY long ago perhaps, it was fashionable for the discontented to visualize life in Tahiti as the desideratum of human existence. What a haven of refuge it seemed to be—out of the range of war talk, far removed from economic depressions, and completely foreign to the hardships of life.

It all sounded very alluring. But we had better get it out of our heads. Tahiti is at war. It happens to be one of the colonial possessions catalogued in the French Empire, and the officials down there are registering aliens under the tropic moon; they are putting into effect strict regulations against profiteering and food hoarding. That takes the romance out of a smooze under the breadfruit tree. They know all about the oligarchy of Berlin down there; all about a lot of things we used to consider quite foreign to Tahiti.

What is left of sanity and civilization in Europe seems to be operating under a day-to-day franchise.

Turkey has finally indicated her desire to swing over to Britain, thereby leaving Russia with whatever giblets she may find in the Balkans.

Japan is rumbling with effects of the recent speech by Ambassador Grew who said the United States resented bombings in China. Now the State Department at Washington will probably have to apologize to Japan for being sore.

Sisters and Neighbors

FROM TORONTO STAR
It is to be hoped that the warmth of feeling towards Quebec which has been generated in Ontario by the election results will not too quickly evaporate. It would be a fine thing for Canada if it were to become permanent.

If such is to be the case, Ontario people will have to seek an understanding of the Quebec outlook, the Quebec viewpoint. It is in some respects different, for these people are chiefly of another race. Outside the great industrial centres they are perhaps not so modern as the inhabitants of Ontario; their minds and habits are more leisurely than ours. They savor life slowly, and the hard practical Ontario man finds this difficult to understand. It does not occur to him that he, in his haste, may miss in life some of the things which he ought to be enjoying. It does not do to presume that Quebec has nothing to teach her sister province.

There is no reason why these two provinces should, so to speak, glare at each other, as they sometimes appear to do. They have many things in common, and each can learn something of value from the other.

So the kindly spirit which has been engendered by the election should not be permitted to evaporate. Let us have, by all means, an Ontario-Quebec axis, not directed against other provinces or against the federal authority, but for the cultivation of mutual friendship and good will, and for the successful prosecution of the great task which lies before the nation in this war.

Across The Bay

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

ELEVATION

THE HOUSE CONTINUED on a high plane yesterday. This is always nice, but it makes no news, no fun, no excitement. Still, it seems to indicate that our legislators, in a pinch like this, are capable of much better thought than we had often believed possible, and in these times we ought to stop judging our law-making bodies on their amusement value.

For all the elevation of yesterday's proceedings, one issue of practical politics began to grow clear, and apparently it is to be the only issue of any importance this session. That is to say, the issue of the C.C.F.'s patriotism. Mr. Maitland launched it yesterday, his voice hoarse with moral indignation, and others are sure to take it up. There, if anywhere, the Legislature will strike fire this year.

Mr. Maitland took a very high plane indeed, so high that you might have thought at some points that the rare atmosphere up there was going to overcome him altogether. The problems of the war had moved him deeply and he made no effort to disguise his genuine emotion.

Starting, as usual, in a lowered voice, his arms locked behind his back, his head bowed (and so much whiter than it used to be, alas, and the flame in it all gone), Mr. Maitland was soon in full flight. It is no news to say he spoke well, because he always does, and everybody knows the manner of his speaking—the hands in sharp cutting motions, the first pounding on the desk, the head stretched out toward the government, the eyes flashing.

THE NEW PAT

THE OLD PAT MAITLAND of the after-dinner speech and the quick quip died at Kamloops a year ago. Since then he has been the serious party leader, ruthlessly suppressing his old instinct to jest, which is rather a pity and a distinct loss to the richness of our public life. Now he is more earnest than ever. The war has done something to him as to all this House.

So he came into this session all ambition laid aside. Just as the Conservative Party was getting along fine, he said; just as the public was rallying to its policies, the war struck. The party and its leader instantly abandoned all their ambitions for power and were going to support the government. His statement of this intent was filled with deep gravity but somehow failed to move the Premier, who spent his time reading the drafts of government legislation.

CURIOUS SIGHT

MR. MAITLAND turned his attention to the C.C.F., and this, when you came to think of it, was peculiar—the Opposition, elected and paid to oppose the government, was supporting it and opposing the other opposition party. Strange to look upon, unique in our little record here but, although Mr. Maitland may not have realized it, part of an inevitable and historic process, which the C.C.F. well understood.

Like process, of course, is the attraction of like for like, the final alignment of political parties on the reality of issues before the country. Between the Conservatives and Liberals there is no difference in principle whatever, only the difference of success at the polls. Between both of the old parties and the C.C.F. there is an unbridgeable gulf. Sooner or later the two old parties of the right will combine against the parties of the left, even if it means extinguishing one of the former. Mr. Maitland's attack on the C.C.F. was prophesy as well as invective.

His attack was pretty serious. He accused socialists of breaking down confidence and morale in wartime, of discouraging Canada's war effort, of associating with Communists and, in the words of their paper, the Federationist, attending only to their "own well-being." In other words they were playing politics, using the war to strengthen themselves. The C.C.F. members all smiled, but they will have to find something better than a smile and they know it. Young Mr. Winch is scheduled to find it today.

HONEST MAN

AFTER MR. MAITLAND came Capt. Bull, who is, in a curious, quiet way, one of the most notable and interesting men in the House. Notable for the transparent and simple honesty of his soul, his profound convictions and his belief that if we only use our heads we can make the world fit to live in. This man has no fear of anyone, for what other politician in the Liberal Party would demand votes for Orientals as an act of human British justice?

Upon his Okanagan ranch Capt. Bull has time to think, an opportunity not shared by all the members of this House. He has thought ahead far enough to see an obvious fact which escapes general attention—namely, that the real crisis in our civilization will come with peace, and if we are not ready for the peace crisis, says Capt. Bull, everything worth while will go down in a welter of depression, in a war between Fascism and Socialism here in our own country. The returned men, says one of them out of the last war, are not coming home to live on the dole.

We have got to make democracy work here if it is going to survive, Capt. Bull says, and to him it is all quite simple, if we have leadership. His methods he had no time to explain but they have to do with the control of finance and credit, something which not more than two or three members understand in the least, but the general idea is that if we work it out sanely we can avoid Fascism or Socialism, we can retain private property and put everybody to work. And if we can put them to work in war we must do it in peace.

If everybody were like Capt. Bull, even

Witch Hunting Due to Begin

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

ON THE MATTER of publishing the names of members of organizations, this column finds no legitimate right to protest. Why should anybody in a democracy wish to keep it a secret that he is a member of any organization? If it is a legitimate organization why should he not join it openly? In fact, I think it would be a very good thing if the membership and contributors of all organizations were periodically opened for public scrutiny, and if all organizations soliciting funds from the public were compelled to make a public accounting of what they do with the money.

As it is, anybody can get a letterhead and solicit funds for Spanish orphans, or for promoting peace and democracy, or for distributing Bibles in China or for protecting the country against "isms," without any guarantee to the public that the funds will be spent for the purpose for which they are collected.

It has reached the pass where it is really dangerous to join any kind of organization because you never know how your name and membership are going to be used. Not so long ago I joined a committee for the purpose of assisting refugees and found some weeks later that, without consulting me at all, my name had been signed to a telegram addressed to the French government containing a denunciation of French policy, about which I was totally uninformed and certainly not in a position to express an opinion. My humanitarian desire to assist some miserable victims of circumstances had been turned into an instrument of international political action. If one joins any organization today he is likely to find that he is one of "We, the undersigned," engaged in some activity of which he had not the slightest prior knowledge.

BUT THERE ARE ominous indications that some witch-hunts are about to be started without any clear concept of the aim, and without any law to guide them. For instance, it has been suggested that the work of "protecting the country against Communism" be turned over to war veterans' organizations. This is a terrifying idea. It suggests that ex-soldiers should be made into a kind of unofficial Gestapo. Obviously it is to be left to them to determine what is and what is not a Communist. Heaven help us if this sort of thing is ever started! A Communist will become anybody who thinks that this social order is in need of some fundamental reform. Nothing would more quickly divide this country into bitterly hostile groups.

A prominent publisher is also supposed to be playing with the idea that "way mothers" should be organized in block sentries to track down "isms." That block-sentry idea has a familiar ring. That's what they have in Germany. In Germany the block sentries are the individuals who listen at your keyhole to hear whether you are tuning in on foreign radio stations; who check up on who comes to dinner, and patrol the personal lives of people in apartment houses, for purposes of political blackmail.

The idea is sickening and disgusting.

AND THERE will be Communists in this country as long as grievous social problems are not energetically dealt with by our democratic government. To name just one, there is the problem of the migratory worker.

Communism has attracted not only some of the worst of our citizens, but some of the best, particularly among the young, for the simple reason that they want to do something energetic about real evils and about real problems, and it is very difficult for them to find any political group with which to align themselves for fundamental attacks on fundamental issues.

The youth of this country is too intelligent to be enthusiastic about a political policy that confines itself to platitudes or superficial, purely ameliorative measures.

The Communist Party in its blind slavishness to Moscow, and in its exclusive concern with the welfare of the Soviet Union, has blocked and confused radicalism, and reduced it to a formula for perpetual trouble-making without even the desire for the solution of any problem. But the radicalism will continue to exist as long as there are crying injustices and stupidities in the social order, and so long as the young mind is healthy and progressive.

Where Jackie Is a Vackie

From Toronto Star

THEY CALL them "Vacks" or "Vackies" in some parts of England—the evacuated children for whom the formal "Evacuees" is too much of a mouthful. Some other things are too much of a mouthful for them, too, for in dear old Lunnion they have been used to certain foods and do not relish the change to country fare. Some of the mothers have complained that fish and chips are not obtainable in the villages. The country folk, for their part, think city appetites somewhat "finicky." It is complained that when roast beef comes to the table only the lean is considered edible.

There has never been anything like this evacuation in Britain before, and for the hosts as well as the guests it is sometimes a rather trying experience. The London Telegraph tells of one six-year-old lad in a Midlands village who was so unused to country surroundings that he let the bull out of its pen three times in one day—a much more serious offence than letting the cat out of the bag. On market days the hosts from many farmhouses and villages forego their gossip about the peculiar manners of their little wards. Some, alas, were accompanied on their exodus by infinitely smaller creatures which are not considered desirable companions for young or old. But quick work was made of these. And the children are much happier without them.

AT THE beginning of September Britain began the task of evacuating 3,000,000 children, mothers and invalids from the crowded danger areas to places where there is little danger of bombing. A population more than a quarter of Canada's had to be moved to safe quarters. This unprecedented trek involved not only transportation but supervision, and the finding of homes for the evacuees. Over 1,300,000 went from London alone. The children had identification tags around their necks, but it is within the range of possibility that some of them will be lost, although each was provided with a postcard to be mailed home with the new address. Not all vackies were quartered in small centres. Henley, a town of 6,000 took 1,700. Reading, with 90,000 accommodated 25,000. The people of any if all our politicians were as sincere and fearless as he we certainly could do it. We would have done it already.

GAINS A POET

From Brockville Recorder and Times

Now that Wilson Pugsley MacDonald has settled in Prescott, we may expect to see that town and its surroundings celebrated in the lyrical verse which he knows so well how to compose.

It is a very long time since a poet with such an established reputation resided among us and Mr. MacDonald will find plenty of opportunity while he is here to woo his incomparable muse.

About 127,000,000 acres of the public domain in the United States are still unsurveyed.

Chase Colds this Easy Way
Here is quick, sure relief for colds; just chase that misery with Dominion C.B.O. the famous triple-action tablets that fight colds quickly and effectively. Be sure to look for the traffic policeman on the little red box.

DOMINION C.B.O. TABLETS

It won't do for America to stand by and see the British Empire broken up and French democracy wiped out, because then we will have to fight Hitler ourselves—and probably alone.—William M. Jeffers, president, Union Pacific Railroad.

Stomach Put Right
LIFE NOW A JOY!

Listen to Mrs. E. H. H., who writes: "For 10 years I was suffering from chronic gastric trouble. Life was nothing but misery through pain and fear of eating. I thought myself a hopeless case. Three years ago I tried Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. Since then I eat whatever I fancy, and have never lost a day's work." Maclean Brand Stomach Powder contains a proper balance of four powerful alkalies which neutralize excess acid, relieve pain, and protect the lining of the stomach against injury. Be sure to ask for Maclean Brand Stomach Powder, which is only genuine if the signature "Alex. C. Maclean" appears on bottle and carton. It is not sold loose, but only in bottles, in cartons, of powder or tablets—at druggists—75c; family size, $1.75.

Savory. Games and fireworks followed. Through the generosity of the Parent-Teacher Association and local W.F., a picture show by Douglas Flitcroft was shown.

The monthly meeting of the Langford subdivision of the Catholic League will be held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Scafe, Island Highway.

The monthly meeting of the Prince Edward Branch No. 91, Canadian Legion, will be held November 7 at 8 in the Island Highway hall.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Prince Edward branch will meet in their clubroom November 7, at 8.

The monthly meeting of St. Matthew's Guild was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Goodman, Mrs. H. A. Hincks presiding. Arrangements were made for the annual Christmas sale and tea on December 8, at the home of Mrs. Leslie Hughes, Langford Lakes.

A reading from Nellie McClung's "Leaves from Lantern Lane" was read by Mrs. R. J. Smith.

It has been estimated that only one in every 166 persons lives long enough to die of old age.

Good Morning, Cup!

by Mary Blake

And a good morning cup of coffee it will be if the cream pitcher holds Irradiated Carnation Milk! Coffee of tempting golden-brown colour—smooth, delightful flavour. You'll bless the day you first tried creaming coffee with Carnation.

also make it much more digestible as an infant food. Carnation is just whole milk with part of the natural water taken out; sterilized so it keeps on the pantry shelf indefinitely; homogenized to give every drop equal creamy smoothness; irradiated for extra "sunshine" vitamin D.

What Carnation does for coffee, it does for all creaming—on cereals, in cream soups and sauces, in ice cream—and in fact in every dish in which it is used. That's because Carnation is double rich.

The heat treatment and homogenization which make Carnation Milk safe and smoothly creamy,

There are glorified recipes of all kinds in the beautifully illustrated Carnation Cook Book—15c (postpaid). Carnation Company Limited, Abbotsford, B.C., Vancouver.

COFFEE SECRETS

Use good coffee. It will pay you in flavour. Use the correct grind. Many coffees now come in two grinds—"regular" for grinding or percolating; "drip" for drip or glass coffee-makers. Use enough coffee—a heaping tablespoonful for each cup, and make time themselves. Do not let boiled coffee stand with grounds in it for any time. Serve hot and cream with undiluted Carnation Milk.

Letters to the Editor
RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS
To the Editor:—The first national appeal for funds by the Canadian Red Cross Society is to be made during the week commencing November 13. In centres such as Victoria where there already exists a Community Chest organization, the Canadian Red Cross Society, recognizing as it does that the peacetime work of the various organizations covered by the Community Chest must be carried on, has decided that a joint appeal is desired instead of separate campaigns. To that end the entire effort of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society has been placed at the disposal of the Community Chest committee. It is therefore requested that those ladies and gentlemen who desire to assist the Red Cross Society in any capacity should notify the Victoria branch office, 317 Belmont Building (G 3816) of their willingness to act as canvassers in the coming campaign. By so doing they will be of the greatest possible assistance to the society.
J. G. AUSTIN, President.
Victoria City and district branch, Canadian Red Cross Society.

What are they saying about the new Fords?
"WHAT A GRAND NEW RIDE!"

North, East, West... telegrams and letters have been pouring in since the introduction of the big, roomy 1940 Ford cars. And through them all runs the same refrain: "Congratulations on the grand new ride. You've really got something there!"

Of course, there's praise for all the 22 Ford improvements—Finger-Tip Gearshift, Controlled Ventilation, Sealed-Beam Headlamps—and the rest. There's enthusiastic comment on increased roominess (four inches more usable inside length in Sedans). But the biggest news is the RIDE!

Cold words can't describe it. You can say that it's a combination of softer springs and improved shock absorbers—of a new torsion bar ride-stabilizer—of added room and increased quiet—of deep, soft "Floating Edge" Seat Cushions. But there's only one way to know how skilfully all those things have been blended into serene and soothing comfort. That's to feel it for yourself!

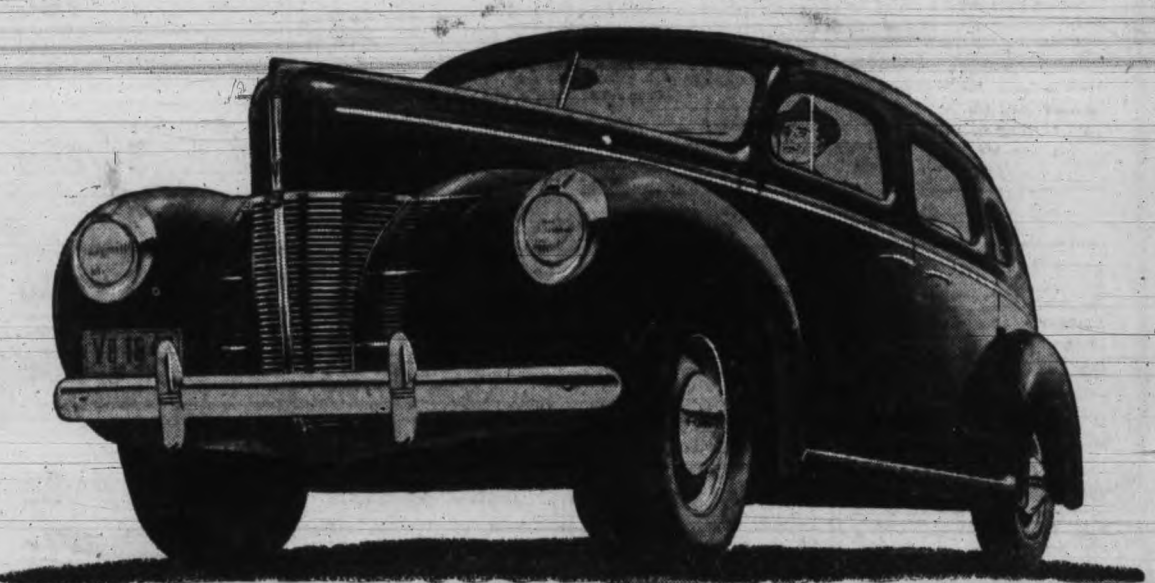

Borrow a new Ford V-8 from any Ford dealer. Let those eight s-m-o-o-t-h cylinders turn you away from the boulevards into the backwoods. Turn the wheel over to some one else and ride the roughest roads in the rear seat.

There's an experience! You'll find yourself measuring comfort for the first time in terms of the noises you can't hear, the bumps you can't feel. It'll open your eyes—if it doesn't lull you to sleep! Try it today.

SOCIALITE BUYS RED'S FREE
DOM—Earl Browder, No. 1 U.S. Communist, was quickly freed after his arrest in New York on Federal passport fraud charges when socialite Mrs. Hester G. Huntington came to his aid—as "a matter of principle"—with $7,500 bail. Inset shows how her name appears in the Social Register.

Borrow a new Ford V-8 from any Ford dealer. Let those eight s-m-o-o-t-h cylinders turn you away from the boulevards into the backwoods. Turn the wheel over to some one else and ride the roughest roads in the rear seat.

There's an experience! You'll find yourself measuring comfort for the first time in terms of the noises you can't hear, the bumps you can't feel. It'll open your eyes—if it doesn't lull you to sleep! Try it today.

Of course, there's praise for all the 22 Ford improvements—Finger-Tip Gearshift, Controlled Ventilation, Sealed-Beam Headlamps—and the rest. There's enthusiastic comment on increased roominess (four inches more usable inside length in Sedans). But the biggest news is the RIDE!

Cold words can't describe it. You can say that it's a combination of softer springs and improved shock absorbers—of a new torsion bar ride-stabilizer—of added room and increased quiet—of deep, soft "Floating Edge" Seat Cushions. But there's only one way to know how skilfully all those things have been blended into serene and soothing comfort. That's to feel it for yourself!

Manslaughter Acquittal

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Christopher J. Neilson was acquitted by an assize court jury yesterday on a charge of manslaughter laid after the death of J. Murphy in an altercation at Campbell River, October 7.

Acquittal was on the instruction of Justice A. I. Fisher.

Evidence at the trial indicated that blows had been struck when the men, attending a dance, became involved in a dispute over Adolf Hitler's policies.

Counsel for the accused claimed that evidence of Dr. W. A. Richardson of Campbell River indicated hemorrhage at the base of the skull caused the death of Murphy.

The doctor, he said, also disclosed that the hemorrhage might have been caused from disease, thus making death under aggravation or excitement a natural result.

Jailed for 18 Months

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Mah Fu Ching, convicted on two counts of narcotics possession by an assize court jury Wednesday, was yesterday sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment and fined $200 by Mr. Justice A. Fisher.

Trial of Mah, coal trimmer, foreman and general storekeeper at Union Bay, B.C., completed the present assizes. His was the only conviction of the four cases tried.

25 Years Ago

NOVEMBER 3, 1914
LONDON—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says: "In reply to a telegram from the Turkish grand vizier expressing regret of the rupture of the good relations existing between Turkey and Russia, owing to an attack by the Turkish fleet, Sergius Sazanoff, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, denied that the Russian fleet was the first to fire, and said he feared that it was too late to enter into parleys of any kind with the Turks."

The Rotary Club is now over a year old, the organization meeting held on October 27, 1913. There are 90 members on the rolls and every one of them is an active one.

VALPARAISO—The German warships Gneisenau, Scharnhorst, Nürnberg, Leipzig and Dresden

today attacked the British fleet off Coronel, Chile. The British cruiser Monmouth was sunk. The cruiser Good Hope was very badly damaged, and as she was on fire is supposed to have been lost.

Splendid progress is being made on Prince Rupert's huge new shipbuilding plant and floating drydock. The contractors are pushing the work. Large gangs of men find permanent employment at the site, where the largest of this kind on the Pacific Coast is being constructed.

Herridge in London

LONDON (CP)—Hon. W. D. Herridge, former Canadian Minister to the United States and leader of the New Democracy Movement in the Dominion, has arrived in the British capital. Mr. Herridge, who left Ottawa recently, told the press he had no statement to make at present concerning his visit here.

The home cooking and needlework stalls, bingo and spinning jenny did a thriving business. Visitors showed interest in the exhibition of home cooking and fancy work. Mrs. J. H. Peard and Mrs. L. H. MacQueen acted as judges. The prize winners were Mrs. A. R. Anderson, Mrs. George Bickford and Mrs. L. Hafer.

Solos were sung by Mrs. K. Booth of Royal Oak, while tea was being served. Mrs. D. Corry and Mrs. A. Francis were in charge of the tea, assisted by the Misses H. Corry and G. Gore-Langton.

A bridge party was held in the evening when seven tables were in play, the prize winners were Mrs. H. Andrew and Mr. J. Roberts, first; Mrs. F. Wilson and Mrs. K. Perrier, second; Mrs. Tickner and Mr. Willoughby, consolation. Refreshments were served by the members.

A Halloween party held at the Institute Hall by the members was greatly enjoyed by the children of the district. A sit-down supper was served, the tables being attractive with Halloween colors and autumn flowers, and the hall was decorated with black cats, witches and pumpkins.

Rev. R. I. Pierce, Mr. Murphy and Miss Newman entertained the children with Halloween games that were entered into wholeheartedly by all the children. The arrangements were in charge of Mrs. A. Francis and Mrs. L. Hafer.

FOSTER'S FURS

JURY-DRANE

At a quiet ceremony yesterday evening in the vestry of First United Church, Rev. Hugh A. McLeod united in marriage Eveline Joan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Drane, 3251-Orilla Street, and Edward, second son of Mrs. C. Jury, 916 North Park Street, and the late Charles Jury.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a smart suit of black with a pin stripe, white satin waist and green accessories, her corsage bouquet being of gardenias and rosebuds. Seamen's Home Fills Wartime Need

The Connaught Seamen's Institute has become a second home to sailors visiting this port and it is with the hope that the standard and comfort of the home may be maintained that the Women's Guild is appealing to the public to patronize the annual birthday tea to be held at the institute on Friday afternoon, December 1.

Arrangements for the tea were made at the monthly meeting of the guild, held yesterday afternoon at the institute, with Mrs. Vernon Thomson, the president, in the chair. SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que. (CP) —With a pair of red woollen ski pants and a dozen sweaters as protection "against the cold," screen star Bette Davis said last night she intends to set out today with a group of friends on a motor trip through western Canada.

"I want to see Moose Jaw and Medicine Hat," said the actress. Miss Davis, on vacation since May and here for the past three days, said she hoped to be in North Bay, Ont., by tonight as she would like to see "Dr. Dafoe and the Quints." On the westward journey, said the actress, her party intends to sleep at tourist camps.

"Everybody thinks we're crazy," she said. "We have my car and a beach wagon, and the wagon is pretty draughty... but my ski pants are wonderful."

Chapter Cancels Birthday Tea

At a meeting of Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. yesterday afternoon, it was decided not to hold the usual tea commemorating the city's birthday on November 19, owing to the country being at war, and special activities being needed to assist in Red Cross and other war activities.

As it has been found impossible to include essays in the school curriculum, it was decided to offer prizes to the pupils in the entrance classes of the Sir James Douglas School making the greatest progress during the present school year.

The regent, Mrs. A. S. Christie, welcomed Mrs. J. T. Williams as a new member of the order. Mrs.
W. N. Armstrong was appointed to represent the chapter in selling poppies on Poppy Day. Mrs.
Christie was appointed delegate to the provincial semi-annual meeting in Nanaimo on November 8. The resignation of Miss Hilce Terry as first vice-regent was accepted with great regret.
Miss Terry is at present living in Vancouver and will retain her membership in the chapter.

The treasurer, Miss Herd, reported that 68 articles of clothing and blankets had been given by the chapter for the evacuated British children. Miss Herd also reported a satisfactory cash balance.

The sympathy of the chapter was extended to Mrs. Ada Matheson in her illness and in the death of her father, which occurred last week in Los Angeles. The secretary, Mrs. Bertha Parsons, was asked to write to the City Council regarding the improvement of Clover Point, it being felt by the chapter that relief labor could well be utilized in bettering conditions at this historic spot.

Donations of socks and other articles intended for men in the services may be left at Miss Herd's Hat Shop, 105 Yates Street.
Several of the chapter members will knit more socks for the men.
The proposed changes in by-laws were read by the secretary and the regent was authorized to vote
as she thought advisable.

After the meeting, tea was served by Miss Crease, Mrs. Edward Parsons, Miss M. McAdam and Miss B. Grant. Over 40 members attended the meeting.

The program to be given at 8
at Metropolitan Church Sunday schoolroom tonight in conjunction with the Fall Fair will include selections by Mrs. Arthur Dowell,
Miss Ruth Bantinhelmer, Mr.
Arthur Jackman, and Miss Marie
Vowles, violinist; accompanist,
Edward Parsons; humorous selections by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Groves; a sketch, directed by Miss Nellie Scowcroft, entitled, "For Distinguished Service," played by Misses Dorree Trevitt, Hazel Mc-Phee and Marie Cochrane.
Rev. A. E. Whitehouse will act as chairman.

CATHEDRAL A.Y.P.A.

Christ Church Cathedral

Hall on Wednesday evening, with the president, Chris Howland, in that all the suggestions already ideas are urgently needed.

The president announced that 45 new members had joined the will be two classes of instruction for the new members before the initiation on December 6. Two nominations were made for a

Protest Pensions for Unmarried Wives

LONDON (CP)—The "unmarried wife" of wartime who, if she has lived with a serviceman for six months, becomes eligible for allowance or pension as a wife, is causing question among the thousands of spinsters in the British Isles who have been struggling for pensions for some years.
Florence White, organizer of the National Spinsters' Pensions Association, said: "Although the spinsters have been obliged to call a truce in their fight for earlier pensions owing to the war, one can well understand their indignation that another class of women is to be given preferential treatment over them, whilst they must continue to struggle on to old age unaided."

St. Martin's Mothers' Union will meet at Mrs. Butterfield's home, Obed Avenue, on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30.

COLDS

Don't Upset Stomach By Drastic Dosing

Taking strong medicines into the stomach for colds may add to the misery by upsetting digestion.
That's why 1 out of 3 Canadian mothers treat colds externally with Vicks VapoRub.

Just rubbed on throat, chest and back at bedtime, VapoRub acts on the skin like a warming poultice and —at the same time—gives off soothing medicated vapours that are breathed direct into the irritated air passages. Often by morning most of the misery of the cold is gone.

Chicago Hawks Capture Opening Hockey Battle

Hockey

Stanowski Is Idol of Crowd

TORONTO (CP)—If it was left for the crowd to say, Wally Stanowski would be a cinch to catch on as a regular with Toronto's National Hockey League club. The former St. Boniface Seals junior, with his swishing style of skating and adroit passing, was a prime favorite with most of the 12,181 fans who saw the Leafs officially open the season in an intra-club game here last night.

The game was in the nature of a test to determine which of the 22 players would line up against Boston in the N.H.L. opener here tomorrow. Proceeds of the game went to the Red Cross Society.

Stanowski's team, the whites, were beaten 6 to 4 by the blues but that didn't detract from the Polish lad's performance. A forward with Syracuse's International League team last year, Wally last night was back on the defence—a position he played when the Seals beat Oshawa Generals for the Canadian junior championship and the Memorial Cup in the spring of 1933.

CROWD CHEERS

And Stanowski showed all the thump he had as a junior. Within the space of a minute in the second period he dumped bashing Bucko McDonald to the ice twice and evoked cheers from the crowd. McDonald, one of the most bruising body-checkers in the N.H.L., outweighs Stanowski by at least 10 pounds.

Wally also set up the play for his team's first goal, carrying the puck into the defence area and passing to Sweeney Schirmer who relayed to P. Kelly, the marksman.

The game brought before a Toronto crowd for the first time the spectacle of Stanowski and Billy (The Kid) Taylor playing on the same team. Taylor led Oshawa in the memorable 1933 series and shared the headlines with Stanowski. Last spring when Oshawa won the title, Taylor had the headlines all to himself.

Billy didn't figure in any goals last night but played a sound game at centre ice. And he showed he hasn't forgotten to sidestep a bodycheck—something he'll have to do if he is to carry his slight frame very far along pro hockey's bruising trail.

JUVENILE SOCCER OPENS TOMORROW

Juvenile Football League teams will open the season tomorrow morning with two league games and an exhibition match carded. League games start at 10:30.

St. Louis College will oppose Young's Shamrocks at Central Park with Terry Peers as referee. Gorge Aves will meet the Shamrocks at Athletic Park with Whalen as referee.

Following players are asked to be at Heywood Avenue at 10 to play against Maple Leafs:

Harvard, Cridge, Jarvis, Peterson, Province, Collier, Davey, Merrick, Bourque, Fernylough, McLennon, Hornby and Knight.

By PETE SALLAWAY

FOOTBALL POOLS will return in Britain. That was the announcement made yesterday which will revive an industry that reached vast proportions. Ten million people are commonly estimated to take part regularly in football and other pool forecasts. It was estimated by the postmaster-general last April that the post office derived $3,367,411 from football business in 1937-38. That was made up of poundage on postal and stamps. As, however, postal orders are now being sold without poundage, since they have been made legal tender, and (Turn to Page 12, Col. 4)

Box Lacrosse

Admissions to Games 18,000

Approximately 18,000 admissions were paid for box lacrosse games at the Victoria Sports Centre during 1933, the Victoria Box Lacrosse Commission and club delegates were told by the chairman, W. C. Moresby, K.C., at the final meeting of the season held in the Belmont Building last evening.

The season had been highly successful, he said. More than $500 profit over operating expenses had been realized after starting the season with liabilities.

Eleven teams played in the league during the season. Seventy-two games were played at the Centre, 37 of which were inter-mediate games. Exhibition fixtures were staged with St. Catharines, Powell River and Nanaimo.

Through injuries sustained by players during 1933, $235 in hospital and doctors' bills had been received. After considerable discussion it was decided that the amount would be set aside and the balance of funds in the treasury left until the start of next season. It was suggested that at that time equal amounts would be granted to various clubs for purchasing equipment to open the season.

Delegates to the meeting expressed confidence in the commission and their thanks for the way in which the box lacrosse season was handled.

It was decided that the annual meeting should not be held later than the third week in February so that an early start could be made in the 1940 season. Voting power at the annual meeting was proposed to be limited to two delegates from each club in the league.

It was also set up the play for his team's first goal, carrying the puck into the defence area and passing to Sweeney Schirmer who relayed to P. Kelly, the marksman.

WASHINGTON HUSKIES SCORE FIRST WIN—With a score that sounds more like baseball than football, University of Washington won over a fighting Stanford eleven 8 to 5, for the first victory of the year Saturday. Here is how the Huskies scored their first points as Don Means, Washington quarterback, downs Norm Standlee, Indian star fullback, behind the goal line as he tried to get away on an end run. Washington and Stanford players are shown running to the point where Standlee is lying on the ground.

Three Senior Games

On three soccer pitches to-morrow first division eleven will resume their race for the Garrison Cup.

Kickoffs are set for 2:45. Bracketed in the top berth with Victoria West and Rangers, Charley Lewis' Victoria City club will take on Garrison at Athletic Park. The city squad is the stronger and favored to emerge with a triumph, although it is understood the Tommy line-up has been switched around in an attempt to develop a winning combination.

Saanich Thistles will make their first start in league competition pitted against Tommy Restell's Victoria West team at Heywood Avenue. The Wests have won one game and lost one. Thistles are reported stronger than last year through the addition of several members of the Mount Tolmie Club, Merchants' League champions last year.

The contest at Beacon Hill will be Esquimalt vs. Rangers. The dockers are signing on some Navy players, according to earlier reports, but no line-up was available today, so fans have been left guessing as to what team will be trotted out for tomorrow's battle.

Rangers surprised the fans last Sunday by beating the Garrison, and their supporters figure them capable of trimming the boys from the dockers' village.

Teams follow:

Saanich Thistles—Webster, Essler, Joyce, Hunt, Underwood, Mowat, Magnall, Hawkes, McDonald, Travis, Boone, Hayward, Williams and Ono.

Victoria City—W. Robb, Laird, Leggett, Fieldhouse, Stoffer, Mills, Holmes, Bissell, Politano, Condon, Barber, Hancock, J. Robbins and Booth.

Victoria West—T. Restell, Cooper, Murray, Kennedy, C. Restell, Smith, Carson, Tonkin, Duncan, Brown, Munroe, Robinson, Travis, R. Okell and Pater-son.

Dahlstrom Is Star in Win Over Detroit

CHICAGO (CP)—Paul Thompson is probably still one of the smoothest left-wingers in hockey, but he won't have to prove it providing his rejuvenated Chicago Black Hawks keep flying the way they did as the curtain went up on National League activities.

Curly-headed Paul, tackling one of the toughest assignments in the major puck whirl, sat on the bench last night as his rookie-studded Hawks flashed to a 3 to 2 victory over Detroit Red Wings. Cully Dahlstrom scored the winning goal 1 minute and 11 seconds from full time.

Thompson took over the job of bossing the Chicago entry midway through last season when Major Frederic McLaughlin fired Bill Stewart. But the Hawks just didn't have the class, and thrived no better under Thompson than under bald Bill—they finished last in the seven-team loop.

Rehired to carry on during the current campaign, Thompson demanded a free hand in rebuilding the Hawks, warning his employers it would take time to produce a winning combination. He decided to play himself only in an "emergency," and that situation may not arise if his team continues to show its opening-night form.

A crowd of 14,864 fans turned out at Chicago for the game and were satisfied that the six yanngans—Thompson has brought under the big tent, will play an (Turn to Page 12, Col. 5)

Canadian Football

Bronks Meet Regina

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Bronks, in their best physical condition of the season, left here today determined to defeat Regina Roughriders in the western Canada football semifinal sudden death game at Regina tomorrow for the right to meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers, western Canada Interprovincial Football Union leaders, in a two-game total point series.

Coach Haughian will take 23 players as follows: Larry Haynes, Hal Harrison, Dave Stark, Gobbo Gilkes, Bob Cosgrove, Bob Zwick, Bert Barber, Wilf Hughes, Al Hotowitz, Bob Lawrence, Bob Harrison, "Porky" Adams, Johnny McKee, Chet Hagen, Bill Wusyk, Paul Rowe, Charlie Harrison, "Blitz" Bisbing, Lyn Warren, Jimmy Gilkes, Bud Weaver, Steve McKinnon and Herb Snowden.

Bronks, taking advantage of a two-week layoff, have undergone extensive drilling and scrimmage practice here this week. Plays are said to be clicking to perfection and the club is looking forward to Paul Rowe's dynamite plugging to display as effectively as it did while he piled up 61 points to capture union point-making honors this season.

EASTERN GAMES

TORONTO (CP) — Down where Toronto schoolboys scrimmage on weekdays, two teams aspiring to the Canadian senior football championship will battle tomorrow while giants of the Interprovincial Union hold sway up town.

Montreal Westmounts and Toronto Balm Beach are running first and second in the Ontario Union and no one can count them anything but front-rank contenders for the eastern title. Their meeting in little old Ulster Stadium, on the second-last Saturday in the schedule, is fraught with significant possibilities.

Hamilton Tigers and Toronto Argonauts, ancient rivals of the Big Four, will play in a more colorful setting and to the music of bigger bands in Varsity Stadium, but they can scarcely hope to match for grimness the game in the other end of town.

For one thing, the race in the O.R.F.U. is a little tighter than that in the Big Four, with the Westmounts two points in front and Sarnia only one behind Balm Beach. For another, two of the greatest all-around backs in the east will face one another in the Westmounts-Beach encounter.

MUST WIN

Balm Beach almost has to win to stay in the race for the two-team playoffs, for Sarnia figures to have a shoo-in against the winless Orfuns at Peterborough. When they have settled the issue, among themselves, the Ontario Union clubs will send out a powerful contender for the throne on which the Argonauts have sat for two years.

The Rough Riders, smarting after the defeat they absorbed from Toronto last week, will seek to maintain their first-place tie with Argos by spilling Montreal Royals in Ottawa. That shouldn't be hard, for the Royals haven't won yet.

Queen's University, coming along fast, takes on McGill at Montreal in an effort to preserve a hold-on second place in the Intercollegiate Union and to force a playoff with the University of Western Ontario. Western's undefeated and untied Mustangs will be at home to the University of Toronto.

Two boys were recently poisoned drinking tea made from Jimson weed berries.

TABLE TENNIS

Spencers and Giggles fought to a 10 to 10 draw in a third division table tennis league match played last night in the Crystal Garden. They broke even in both the singles and doubles contests. Savages scored an 18 to 2 win over Mount Douglas in the other match.

Scores follow:

Spencers — W. Payne 2, R. Payne 3, A. Matheson 0, K. Elston 3; Payne and Payne 2, Elston and Matheson 0.

Giggles — Mrs. Bradshaw 1, Mrs. Robinson 2, M. Jarvis 3, J. Jarvis 2; Jarvis and Jarvis 2, Bradshaw and Robinson 0.

Savages — C. Chambers 4, A. Knight 4, C. Lewis 3, A. Downham 3; Chambers and Knight 2, Lewis and Downham 2.

PRESIDENT'S TEAM WINS

The president's team, under the captaincy of General Tuxford, won the match from the captain's side at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday by a 10 to 6 score.

EIRE BLACKOUT AREA EXTENDED

DUBLIN (CP) — From November 18 Eire's partial blackout is to be intensified in all east coast areas and in Cork, Waterford and Limerick, according to regulations issued by the Department of Defence.

The regulations, which cover public, domestic, advertising and other lighting, were not published in the newspapers because the department refuses to pay for them as an advertisement. The department, however, has sought to call attention to them by means of the state radio stations.

Protests against the blackout have been made by the Labor Party on the ground there is no reason for it in a neutral country. Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden and other neutrals have been cited in support of this contention.

The policy of the government in ordering the blackout is to avoid possible protests from Great Britain that the sky glare of Irish cities and towns, visible more than 150 miles away, would assist raiding aircraft in attacks on Britain's western coasts.

Efforts are being made to patch up the differences between the newspapers and the government.

BALTIMORE — Ben Brown, 157, Atlanta, outpointed Irish Eddie Pierce, 165, Dublin (8). Scranton, Pa. — Eddie Dolan, 146, Waterbury, Conn., stopped Eddie Guerra, 150, New York (7).

The annual turnover of the pools was estimated, just over a year ago, at $40,000,000, a figure which one of the leading pool operators agreed was accurate. Three years ago the British Parliament rejected a bill to prohibit pools. Members voted in favor of an amendment that the proposals were "an unjustifiable interference with private liberty," and that there was no need for the betting bill.

With the outbreak of war and the temporary discontinuance of organized football matches, the football pools had automatically to cease and this involved the suspension of thousands of workers directly employed in that business. When it was later announced regional football would be resumed members of the pool associations were inundated with requests for the resumption of the pools. The latest ruling by the government is apparently the result of this great demand for the pools.

It is a curious fact that when English League football was broken off in 1915 Eyrton were the reigning champions just as they are now. They won the championship with a total of 46 points from 38 matches, while last season they finished at the top of the first division with 59 points from 42 matches.

During the season of 1914-15 Sheffield United won the English Cup by beating Chelsea 3 to 0 at Old Trafford, Manchester, instead of in London, and Ireland won the International soccer championship. That was Chelsea's only appearance in the cup final and Ireland's only success in the international competition, for they have never won it before or since.

When league football had to be abandoned Derby County and Preston North End, who had finished first and second, respectively, in the second division, were due for promotion but they had to wait four years. There was no third division then, the southern section being formed in 1920-21 and the northern section a year later. Chelsea and Tottenham Hotspurs filled the last two positions in the first division and they were due for relegation, but remained where they were when it was extended to 22 clubs on the resumption of league football.

One British golfer, Wally Marks, professional to a German club, has had the unusual experience of traveling by airplane "cash on delivery."

Marks has been professional to the Bergischland Club, between Essen and Düsseldorf for six years. When Germany invaded Poland he was advised to return to England, and it was then that his adventures started. He was not allowed to take more than 10 marks with him, and was not allowed to buy petrol, but he got over the second difficulty by taking all the petrol in the golf course tractor.

Under the cover of a blackout he got away and after being searched at the frontier entered Dutch territory. A Dutch friend paid 46 florins for his passage by air to England, but at the airport he was told that the fare had been raised to 79 florins. After a long discussion the Dutch air officials agreed to let him pay the balance in London, and to make sure they sent him cash on delivery.

considered that he had squared accounts with Max. "What good could he do his self fightin' over here now?" declared Mushy Jackson, noted student of international affairs. "He couldn't take no dough with him back to Germany. Not wit' all those British battleships stoppin' him."

Which brought up the subject of the blockade. Presumably, it works coming this way, too, and the British would have every opportunity to nab Max on his way across the Atlantic. Even if he flies, they could yank him off a clipper at the Azores or Bermuda.

"How could they do that?" demanded Mike Jacobs. "They been lettin' in all these German opera singers for years. The Metropolitan's full of 'em. They shouldn't collar Schmeling just because he's a boxer."

SENT TO MINORS CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Black Hawks, National Hockey League club, announced last night Bill Mackenzie, defenceman, would be sent to Providence of International-American League today, subject to immediate recall.

Dashing Harmon Battles 'Ghost'

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan's whirling wolverine, Tommy Harmon, will try tomorrow to lay a 15-year-old red-headed "ghost."

Michigan's undefeated football team will roll against Illinois at Champaign—on the same field where Illinois' famous galloping ghost, Red Grange, romped through a Michigan team in 1924 for four touchdowns within the first 12 minutes of play.

There are many who think Harmon may match the old galloping ghost's record of five touchdowns in that 39 to 14 Illinois victory. Harmon scored 27 points this season against Iowa and last Saturday compiled 21 against Yale. His coach, Fritz Crisler, and Michigan's all-American ace, Willie Heston, say "we'll take Harmon over Grange any day."

To which Ray Duncan, assistant Illinois coach who saw Grange at his peak and scouted Harmon this year, replies: "Perhaps Harmon is the best since Grange, but he's not as good as the old red-head."

Our Mail Bag FOOTBALL SCHOOL

To the Sports Editor:—As you know, we have started a football coaching school in Victoria. A great deal of interest has been taken in the school and at the present time we have 110 boys, ranging from the ages of 8 to 17, on the enrolment list.

We have all the senior officials behind the move and already have received four footballs from the Saturday and Wednesday Leagues. Now we are asking anybody who is interested in helping the boys to play the game to either sponsor a team or give a donation of sweaters or money, which will be used to buy the same. Any person who wants to assist may get in touch with the secretary at G 1813 or at 997 Fort Street, or communicate with W. Pynn at the Athletic Park. Anyone who is willing to referee games on Saturday mornings is also asked to get in touch with the secretary.

This letter is written on behalf of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association and the Coaching School.

U.S. ON WATCH FOR SABOTAGE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Justice Department is prepared to crack down on saboteurs on a nation wide scale if repeal of the arms embargo should bring an increase in subversive activities.

Attorney-General Murphy said the department was "very ready" for such developments.

Asked about a protective system which had been set up about the nation's industries, the attorney-general said there already had been some sabotage

BOXLA PLAYERS DINNER GUESTS

R. M. Williams, sponsor of the Alert Service box lacrosse team, and Mrs. Williams, were hosts to members of the team and their friends at a dinner party held Wednesday evening in the Mayfair Café. After dinner the party moved to the home of the sponsor and his wife, 1043, Pakington Avenue. There the gathering was treated to a sleight-of-hand show by Frank Merryfield, the "Cornish Wizard," after which dancing was enjoyed.

The evening was brought to a close with the serving of refreshments.

During the evening Mr. Williams spoke glowingly of the record established by the team during the season and Captain Buzz Brown spoke of the fine spirit of co-operation that existed between the players, sponsor and coaches. Don Smith and H. B. Sargison also spoke briefly. Sargison gave the season's record of each player.

The invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. Buzz Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cockin, Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. Plater, Mr. and Mrs. Ian McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sargison, Miss Eileen Worth, Miss Betty Clark, Miss Joan Toms, Miss Gladys Cook, Miss Pat Kelly, Miss Jean Sargison, H. Thompson, E. Holyoak, Jim Pickford, W. Williams, D. Coates, G. Langdon, H. Co-operation Needed, Says Maritime Man

VANCOUVER (CP) — Choice between co-operation and chaos is the alternative to acceptance of autocracy, in the opinion of Ambrose Forgeron of Halifax, president of the United Maritime Fishermen.

"If we cannot find the means of co-operation, we shall have chaos," he told the Vancouver Canadian Club's annual meeting last night. "But not for long, for out of chaos will come co-operation."

"We do not want any other form of government in this country than the present, but only the liberty to develop our co-operative movement, which will give us our just desert. We want nothing more."

His statement of aims was contained in an address outlining the situation of Canada's Atlantic fishing industry.

He said Nova Scotians have always been "doomed to starvation or emigration" due to severe economic conditions. He gave figures to show the importance of the industry "not only in his native province, but as a present and potential source of wealth to Canada and the North American continent."

Illustrating the success achieved through co-operation, he said fishermen in one district had been able to raise the price received for lobster—the most valuable of all catches at present—from 3 to 9 cents per pound for smaller varieties and to as high as 25 cents for big lobsters.

"Not only are the fishermen bettering themselves economically, but they are building themselves morally," he said.

WHAT'S THE USE? SEE WHAT'S COMING

ROME — Raffaele Bendandi, famous amateur seismologist and astronomer of Pienza announces he has discovered four new planets whose existence would cause North America—or maybe Europe—to sink beneath the ocean on April 6, 2521. He did not name the hour.

Bendandi, who has claimed success in forecasting earthquakes during the past six years, said his calculations indicated that North America—or Europe—would become another lost Atlantis in a map-changing deluge comparable to the biblical deluge which Noah survived in his Ark.

"I have baptized the new planets, Italy, Rome, Rex and Dux," Bendandi said. "I estimate that the solar system becomes 50 times vaster than was previously discovered before this discovery."

"I consider my calculations precise enough for me to say that the cataclysm will strike the world in 582 years precisely on April 6."

and added that "there may be considerably more."

The existence of the protective system, the attorney-general declared, "minimizes the possibility" of any large outbreak of sabotage.

"At least," he said, "they won't be blowing up plants right and left as they did 20 years ago."

GEORGE W. ALLAN
RETURNS TO CITY

Amiable George W. Allan, chairman of the Canadian committee of the Hudson's Bay Company, is recognized as a regular commuter between Winnipeg and Victoria.

In golfing togs, the 79-year-old lawyer strode about the Empress Hotel rotunda this morning, shaking hands with old-time friends, voicing his delight at Victoria's delightful climate.

He makes a point of coming to this city twice a year, and spends weeks enjoying a restful vacation. "You know, I like coming to Victoria," said Mr. Allan. "To my mind it is an ideal city. There is no better place for restful relaxation."

Mr. Allan is probably one of the best-posted men on Canadian affairs, and he usually has a good story for newspapermen, but he was not talking for publication today.

"In these critical times," he thundered in his customary buoyant manner, "I think we private citizens should keep our mouths shut and leave the talking to the more knowledgeable fellows."

Great Campaign
Soon Under Way

With organization practically complete, all divisions of the Community Chest and Red Cross joint campaign have now taken the field except Division B which will start actual work November 9, and Division C which will go out November 13.

To attain the objective of the campaign, $100,000, the different divisions have been assigned the following quotas:

Division A, under the leadership of G. H. Stevens, $61,000; Division B, W. W. Martin, $8,000; Division C, Miss Sara Spencer, $18,000; Division D, J. H. Wilson, $6,000; Division E, E. G. Rowe, $7,000. Each of these divisions has a special territory to cover and special work to do. "A" division is known as the special names, "B" is the business division, "C" residential, "D" the industrial and "E" the public services. The whole campaign is under the direction of Frank Paulding, chairman of the campaign is Duncan MacBride, vice-chairman, W. P. D. Pemberton. Six hundred citizens, all of whom have subscribed to the Community Chest and Red Cross, are giving their services as canvassers without pay or any remuneration.

Preliminary reports would go to show that the public of Greater Victoria fully realizes the vital importance of the work being done by the social agencies on whose behalf the present appeal is being made and recognizes that this is, if anything, more important under present conditions than it was in peacetime.

The public also realizes that this is a joint appeal which, of course, means that Victorians are looked to give not only what they did last year to the Community Chest, but more so as to meet the requirements also of the Canadian Red Cross.

"E" Division held an organization supper meeting last night at Spencer's under the chairmanship of Mr. Rowbottom. Present were Capt. W. Hobart Molson, chairman of the naval and military section; J. V. Johnson, chairman of the municipal section; Trustee Frank G. Mullner, chairman of the schools division. Mr. Rowbottom is also chairman of the provincial and Dominion civil services section.

The ladies' groups are meeting each afternoon at the home of Miss Sara Spencer, Moss Street, where they are given their instructions for the campaign in which they annually play such an important role.

The report of the medical superintendent of Queen Alexandra Sanatorium for October shows admissions during October, 5, making a total number of patients 62; patients in Jubilee Hospital, 4; consultations, 6; operations, 3; X-rays, 9; laboratory examinations, 437; teeth extractions, 23; plaster turning cases, 3; plaster turning cases reinforced, 6; physiotherapy treatments and exercises, 528.

TOWN TOPICS

Dean S. H. Elliott will address the Victoria Ministerial Association on "Tragedy," Monday morning, at the regular meeting, which will be held at 10 at the Y.W.C.A.

Following approval of her project by the city zoning board of appeal, Mrs. Emma S. Bolt was granted a building permit for conversion of premises at 303 Michigan Street into a duplex at a cost of $1,400. Sutton & Sons were listed as contractors.

In a petition signed by 11 householders and taxpayers on Dallas Avenue a request was made to the City Council yesterday that the proposed name change, which would make that street Angeles Avenue, be abandoned in favor of Paddon, Brothie, Gilmsereef, Neville or Gort Avenue.

The city welfare department is appealing for a kitchen table, two chairs and a cupboard suitable for holding dishes, for a family which is trying to re-establish itself in a little home. Anyone having such articles to donate is kindly requested to telephone G 8104 and they will be called for.

When she fell 15 feet from the steps of her home at 401 Henry Street, Miss Mary K. White yesterday afternoon suffered a compound complicated fracture of her lower right leg. She was given preliminary attention by city police after which Dr. Lloyd W. Bassett attended and ordered her removal to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Information contained in the report the special city wage committee has not yet presented to the City Council, was sought from the city yesterday in a letter from the British Columbia Provincial Association of Firefighters. The association wished data on those sections of the report relating to firemen.

Those persons in the southwest portion of the city—that area from Cook Street west to the waterfront and Pandora Avenue south to the waterfront—who wish to act as voluntary wardens in the case of an emergency, are asked to communicate with Norman Foster by telephone or letter. Mr. Foster can be located at the Chamber of Commerce office, Arcade Building.

The opening dance of the Victoria High School Alumni Association for the season will be held this evening in the upper ballroom of the Crystal Garden. Dancing to a four-piece orchestra will take place from 9 till 11. There will be exhibition numbers by pupils of Miss Florence Clough. The committee in charge of arrangements for the dance includes William Hole, chairman, Marcia Beach and Don Hughes.

On Sunday at 3 the Belmont United Sunday School will hold the first of a winter series of Sunday afternoon services. These will be held on the first Sunday of each month with the object of giving more time to the special features of Sunday school work.

May Skip Court
On Water Issue

Amicable discussions between Oak Bay and Victoria delegates over the vexed water rate question today bore promise of settlement of the issue without further recourse to the court, it was learned at the City Hall.

For an hour and one half the representatives of the two municipalities discussed the problem without reaching any definite conclusion. At the adjournment plans were made to hold another committee meeting, probably two weeks hence, to give the question further consideration before the two committees report to their respective councils with recommendations.

Both factions emphasized the friendliness of the discussions. "It was one of the friendliest meetings we have had to date with Oak Bay," city water board chairman, Alderman John A. Worthington, reported.

Reeve R. R. Taylor, Oak Bay, stated nothing definite was done. "You might say we were sparing," he said.

Alderman Worthington declined to discuss the possibility of settling the question without further recourse to the courts. At one time it was thought such action would be necessary, since the result of an appeal from a Supreme Court ruling on the question left the machinery for rate setting in doubt.

In the meantime the city continues to bill Oak Bay at a rate of 12.08 cents per unit for water, and Oak Bay replies consistently by paying only at the old rate of 7.5 cents. As a result the city's books, up to the end of September show, the municipality to be $21,666.13 in arrears.

City delegates at today's session, in addition to Alderman Worthington, were Mayor Andrew McGavin, Alderman T. W. Hawkins, Ed. Williams and W. L. Morgan, as well as F. L. Shaw, city solicitor; G. M. Irwin, city engineer, and D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller-treasurer.

Oak Bay's representatives were Reeve Taylor, Councillors R. Angus, W. Ellis and Archie Gibbs; R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk and A. G. S. Musgrave, municipal engineer.

Anti-vivisection

At a recent board meeting of the local anti-vivisection society, Miss D. Kitto, secretary, read a report from London, stating that conscripts and territorialists in the British army need not undergo vaccination or inoculation. Inoculation is not compulsory in the regular army and this information has been forwarded to Ottawa.

The secretary also reported on misstatements regarding immunization against diphtheria in Canada, elicited through information given in the British House of Commons.

An open meeting will be held at the Y.W.C.A. on November 14 at 8, which will be of a semi-social character. G. B. Kitto will give an address. Three new members have joined the local society during the week.

LT. GOVERNOR SEES
POPPY-MAKING

Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. and Mrs. Hamber paid their annual visit to the Red Cross Workshop, Johnson Street, this morning, where they were shown the manufacture of wreaths and poppies to be sold tomorrow on the downtown streets of Victoria in remembrance of those men who fell during the Great War.

His Honor and Mrs. Hamber were met by officials of the workshop, the Red Cross and Remembrance Day Committee prior to being shown around the premises.

The Lieutenant-Governor said that he was happy to be able to visit the workshop again, and he hoped that the poppy sale tomorrow would be a big success.

Prior to visiting the poppy manufacturing section of the workshop, Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber were shown through the wood-work shop and the sheet metal section, where they chatted with the returned soldiers who work at the various machines.

In the poppy room they were introduced to the men who were finishing this year's Remembrance Day poppies and wreaths. The workshop manufactures approximately 260,000 poppies a year for sale in all parts of British Columbia. More than 1,300 wreaths of all sizes are made.

Purchase of a large wreath was made by the Lieutenant-Governor. Proceeds from the sale of the wreaths and poppies are used to aid disabled war veterans throughout the year.

Two hundred volunteer canvassers will be in the downtown area tomorrow to sell the poppies. The majority of merchants of the city have already been solicited for purchasing of wreaths.

Those who were on hand to meet Mr. and Mrs. Hamber at the workshop were: Commander C. H. R. Slingsby, chairman of the Remembrance Day Committee; Harold Butteris, campaign manager; S. H. Okell, manager of the workshop; Sir Percy Lake, head of the Canadian Legion in Canada and a member of the workshop committee; Charles Hensley, chairman of the workshop committee; Brigadier-General J. G. Austin, president of the Victoria Branch of the Red Cross, and Mrs. Percy Curtis, Red Cross executive member.

Rowles' Boys' Band
Being Reorganized

In an effort to enable its winter program to be carried out, friends and supporters of Rowles' Boys' Band met this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dyson, 1412 Camosun Street.

There are now 14 boys in this veteran band, under the direction of C. H. Rowles, the chief drawback to progress being lack of instruments.

Honorary directors named were as follows: Lieut.-General Sir Percy Lake, K.C.D., K.C.M.G., W. T. Straith, M.P.P., Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan and Alderman W. H. Davies. School trustee P. E. George and G. C. Watkins are co-operating in the office of secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Symonds, John Taylor and W. Dumsday were appointed trustees.

"We are endeavoring to create a wider interest in the band, known for many years past as the Rowles' Boys' Band and now being re-organized under the name Victoria Boys' Band," the chairman said. "The prime object of the band leader is to assist boys of school age in acquiring musical training, and also to brighten the city with a little music during the tourist season."

"New instruments are badly needed. These instruments are loaned to the young bandmen without charge so that economic necessity does not deprive a lad of the opportunity of becoming a bandman."

$50 Or 7 Days
For Taking Car

Ernest W. Roberts, who pleaded guilty in Esquimalt Police Court yesterday to a charge of taking a car without the owner's permission, was fined $50 or seven days by Magistrate Hall this morning. Roberts appeared on remand today for sentence.

He told the court he was awaiting entry into the army, having filed his application and passed medical examination.

The car was owned by Victor Stephens and was stolen from the parking grounds at Work Point. Roberts said he had been drinking and while he admitted taking the car it had not been with the intention of stealing it, he felt.

He had driven it to town, put gas in it, attended a dance and was returning the car to Work Point when he was found by two men who were searching for the car.

Nazis in England Tell Of Atrocities in Reich

LONDON (CP)—Confirmation of the stories of atrocities in Nazi concentration camps contained in the government white paper is given in a letter to The Times of London from members of the special tribunal sitting at Richbury camp in Kent and considering the cases of 3,600 refugees who became "enemy aliens" as a result of the declaration of war.

The letter was signed by Sir George Bonner, former King's remembrancer and senior master of the Supreme Court, King's bench division; Tristram Beresford, recorder of Folkestone; Trevor Hunter, chancellor of the Diocese of Swansea and Brecon; Walter Blake Rodgers, recorder of Southampton; M. Sugden, barrister; and John Henry Thorpe, recorder of Blackburn.

The letter says all the refugees received warnings on leaving the camps never to tell what they had seen and suffered.

UNEXPLAINED DEATHS

"We heard of cases where arrest of a father was followed in a few days by notification that he was ill in prison or in a concentration camp, the locality of which was not specified," the letter says. "The report followed later that he had died. In due course a box purporting to contain his remains was brought to the house with a demand for 500 marks for cremation expense. No particulars as to the cause of death were forthcoming, nor was there any certainty as to the identity of the remains."

"In one case a widow who had undergone this terrible experience was arrested six months later on a charge of making propaganda with her husband's ashes. She was released later, we were told, and the witness added 'one eye was gone'."

"When traveling in trucks or wagons, there were as many as 30 or 40 in one wagon. On journeys which were taken from May to December, 1938, and which at different times varied in duration from 14 to 16 hours, they were given no water or food."

"Every one of these men had heard rifle shots or had seen men shot down. On one specific journey three men in one wagon were shot and their bodies thrown out of the windows because they complained of the heat. On this journey we are satisfied that at least seven men were murdered on the way."

According to testimony received by the Tribunal, young and old upon arrival at concentration camps were beaten with sticks or prodded with bayonets by guards.

"One man was told by a guard to strike with his spade a friend who was formerly a judge and had sentenced two Nazis to death for criminal offences. The witness said he refused to do it. He was immediately bayoneted in the arm. Soon afterward the judge died in the camp."

Dumbells On Stage Again November 11

TORONTO (AP)—The Dumbells, famous Canadian company of soldier entertainers of the first Great War, will don grease paint and costume again on Armistice night at Ottawa in a special engagement for troops in the capital. It was announced here today.

Captain M. W. Plunkett, original producer, said a report from Great Village, N.S., that the company was reorganizing on a permanent basis is "premature." It was indicated, however, that permanent reorganization is a strong likelihood.

Ross Hamilton, female impersonator who created the role of "Marjorie," a famous lady of the first Great War, will be back in the cast November 11, along with Red Newman and Pat Rafferty, comedians, and Al Plunkett.

IT'S ALL ABOUT MEN

But NOT A MAN in the CAST!

JOAN BENNETT IN PLAZA FEATURE

With Louis Hayward and Joan Bennett playing the top roles, Edward Small's new romantic drama, "The Man in the Iron Mask," which will have its premiere showing at the Plaza Theatre Monday, unfolds a thrilling and exciting tale of 17th century romance and adventure in France. The central theme of the story revolves around King Louis XIV and his twin brother, Philippe.

Warren William, Joseph Schildkraut, Alan Hale, Miles Mander, Bert Roach, Walter Kingsford, Marian Martin and Montagu Love, featured in support of the stars, portray the parade of characters in this fast-moving, tensely pitched drama.

OAK BAY THEATRE
Elizabeth Bergner brings two finely-etched portraits to the screen in "Stolen Life," the new emotional drama now at the Oak Bay Theatre. She is cast as Sylvia, shallow, flirtatious girl, and as her twin sister, Martina, a reserved intellectual type. For her first appearance on the screen in many months, an unusual story has been woven for Miss Bergner by Margaret Kennedy. It tells how twin sisters fall in love with the same man.

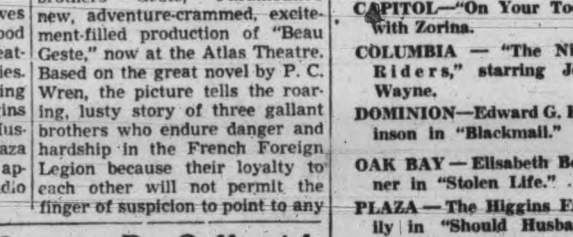

The picture stars Michael Redgrave, young English actor, and Wilfrid Lawson.

ATLAS THEATRE
Costarring Gary Cooper, Ray Milland and Robert Preston as the brothers "Geste," Paramount's new, adventure-crammed, excitement-filled production of "Beau Geste," now at the Atlas Theatre. Based on the great novel by P. C. Wren, the picture tells the roaring, lusty story of three gallant brothers who endure danger and hardship in the French Foreign Legion because their loyalty to each other will not permit the finger of suspicion to point to any

COLUMBIA THEATRE
Three of the huskiest cowboy stars in Hollywood are The Three Mesquiteers—John Wayne, Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune, whose latest Republic western, "The Night Riders," is showing at the Columbia Theatre. Wayne is 6 feet 4 and weighs 200; Corrigan is 6 feet 2 and weighs 199, and Terhune is 6 feet and weighs 204.

PLAZA THEATRE
Eddie Cantor, Major Bowes and the Trocadero in Hollywood are famous outlets for theatrical talent to break into movies. Young Tommy Ryan, playing Junior in the Republic Higgins Family comedy, "Should Husbands Work?" now at the Plaza Theatre, is one of the few to appear with all three, on the radio and in personal appearances.

Convoy System Is Working Well

OTTAWA (CP)—The convoy system, coupled with diversified routing of shipping, apparently is working out well and little dislocation of trade is resulting, Capt. L. W. Murray, deputy chief of the naval staff, National Defence Department, said here yesterday.

Speaking to the Ottawa branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, he said the two German raiders believed to be in the North Atlantic had not been able to achieve very satisfactory results.

While the convoy system is working very well, he said it was being avoided as much as possible because it slowed up trade as vessels had to wait for naval escorts before proceeding with their cargoes.

The diverting of shipping from regular routes allowed vessels to proceed practically on schedule, and they were difficult to locate by submarines or other sea raiders, Capt. Murray stated.

Fear Men Lost In Launch Blaze

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Little hope for the safety of William "Bud" Irwin and Leo F. Fedewa, passengers in a gasoline launch which burned on Pitt Lake about 32 miles northeast of here Wednesday, is held by police today.

Search parties Friday discovered two shoes of different make, a watch and a sweater, in the charred vessel.

Police said apparently the men were trapped in the blazing boat and stripped off most of their clothing before attempting to swim to shore.

Search parties, organized by logging companies on the lake and from New Westminster, reported they had found no trace of the men. A British Columbia police boat is still out with other boats scanning the lake.

Diaper Emergency Solved By Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Safe after three nights in a frozen Alaska wilderness—with her 19-day-old baby, a 26-year-old mother today thanked a special airplane flight for solving the critical diaper and nipple emergency.

A special ski-equipped plane flew Mrs. Christian Beckman and her daughter to McGrath, in west central Alaska, yesterday from the isolated spot where their plane was forced down Monday by a snowstorm. The rescue pilot was Nate Brown.

Pilot Kenneth Neese, who was active in arranging for the rescue, reported neither the mother nor infant appeared to have suffered any ill effects from the frost-nipped interruption of their flight home to Ophir from the Fairbanks hospital.

Neese was directed to the scene Monday by radio, and later dropped milk and other food, sleeping equipment, diapers and nipples to the party, which included the mother and baby, Pilot Jimmy Dodson and Ole Blendheim, another passenger.

Neese said Mrs. Beckman said the diapers met as great an emergency as the food.

Bosun Answers Polar Call From Farm

VANCOUVER (CP)—From the fertile farming lands of B.C.'s Fraser valley came an answer to Admiral Richard Byrd's call for a veteran square-rigger boatswain to sail his barkentine Bear into the cold wastes of the Antarctic.

Capt. William McLeod, who says he is a veteran of square-rigger days and now retired at Coghlan, some 40 miles east of here, sent forward his application to the explorer.

The captain said he had experience as a boatswain, first and second mate on square-riggered ships and has a board of trade certificate for them.

"I traded across the Atlantic to South American ports for many years," he added. "All my discharges as V.G."

ANIMAL REFUGEES

NEW YORK (CP)—Refugees from the war, pedigreed horses and dogs valued by European shippers at more than $1,000,000, are finding a haven in North America. Transportation officials said all records for such incoming cargoes have been broken since the war started. Horse and dog lovers have been shipping them to this continent to save the animals from destruction or the breeds from deterioration.

TANKER IS BEING BROKEN UP HERE

Dismantling of the tanker Naimolite is proceeding at the Store Street Wharf of the Capital Iron and Metals Ltd. The vessel has been alongside the plant some time, but actual stripping of the hull has only just begun.

The Naimolite was formerly operated by the Imperial Oil Company in tanking oil to British Columbia coastal points. Other Imperial Oil tankers previously broken up by the Capital Iron and Metals Ltd. are the Impoco and Imperial. A new and modern Imperial is now operated by the oil company in the coast trade.

Mission Boat On Ways

The Columbia Coast Mission M.S. John Antle was hauled out on the Kingston Street marine ways of Armstrong Bros. at 10 this morning for general over-haul.

The mission vessel will be on the ways over the week-end and should be refloated by Monday next, it was stated at the plant today. She will then tie up at the C.P.R. docks and will be open for inspection.

On Maiden Voyage

Outward bound on her maiden voyage from the Pacific coast to South America, the new Westfall-Larsen motorship Grenanger, was heavily loaded with general cargo and passengers, the majority of the passengers taking the four months' round-trip voyage, according to the Empire Shipping Co. Ltd., B.C. agents.

Like Ms. Stranger, her sister ship, the Grenanger has accommodations for 12 passengers. Her staterooms have private bath or shower, plus twin or single beds.

The Falkanger, third of these new streamlined additions to Westfall-Larsen's fleet, is now under construction and will reach the Pacific coast a few months hence.

Action Brought Against Evagoras

Hearing of an action brought against the Cyprus-registered freighter Evagoras for damage caused to the Canadian National car ferry slip at Ogden Point last December, will shortly be heard in Admiralty Court by Chief Justice Archer Martin.

Mr. Justice Martin announced in Vancouver yesterday that he will fix a date for the trial of the $8,500 action.

The Evagoras, during a heavy gale on December 2 last year, was blown from her moorings at the elevator berth at Ogden Point and fetched up against the C.N.R. ferry slip, resulting in damage to the structure.

Arthur Alexander, counsel for Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Company, Canadian National Railways and Canadian National Realities, owners of the Ogden Point Ferry Slip, stated in Admiralty Court at Vancouver yesterday, the Evagoras, though of Cyprus registry, is owned by an English company.

The boat is in unknown foreign waters at present but her captain, J. McDonald, is expected to reach England some time in the future.

Alfred Bull, K.C., appeared for the vessel, which is alleged to have had aboard equipment which would have held her to the wharf if used.

Mervyn's Crew Landed

LONDON (AP)—The captain and 24 crewmen of the 3,402-ton British steamer Mervyn, sunk in collision with an unidentified steamer off the coast of Wales last Wednesday, were landed at Llanelli, Wales, today. Four of the crew still were missing.

Of All Things

HALIFAX (CP)—The United States coastguard cutter Bibb docked at Halifax yesterday to land all of things—a sailor suffering from sea sickness. Officers said the seaman, William Boles, 19, of Georgia was "very, very ill."

It was Boles' first voyage. The Bibb had been at sea since October 18.

British Warships Trail Ss. Flint

BERGEN, Norway (AP)—The United States freighter City of Flint, under command of a German prize crew, entered Haugeund harbor, 75 miles south of here, at 5 p.m. (8 a.m. P.S.T.) today en route from Murmansk, Russia, to a German port. The ship did not dock, but remained offshore.

Telephonic advices from that Norwegian city said the vessel flew no flag and was painted black.

Those who managed to see her through fog and growing darkness also took a position in the harbor. It was assumed the Flint was given permission to enter the harbor so a sick American crewman could be landed.

Earlier dispatches told how several British warships had been observed off the Norwegian coast today, apparently watching the progress of the City of Flint.

The Flint, in the hands of the German prize crew, passed the Bergen naval district at 9:30 a.m. (12:30 a.m. P.S.T.) according to the Norwegian mine-layer Olav Tryggvason and two Norwegian destroyers.

Observers here speculated on the possibility that the British warships might attempt to take the City of Flint from her German captors a few hours after she leaves Haugeund, and cuts into the open sea across the entrance of Bukken Fjord.

The possibility was considered that the City of Flint might have to leave the three-mile limit of Norwegian territorial waters south of Stavanger, farther down the coast from Haugeund and across the wide mouth of Bukken Fjord, to avoid Jaedernes Reef.

LONDON STATEMENT

LONDON (CP)—In what some observers interpreted as an indication Britain would seek to avoid entanglement in the controversy over the German seizure of the U.S. freighter City of Flint by keeping "hands off," a communique was issued today which said:

"The Admiralty announced that the steamship City of Flint has been sighted by our light forces proceeding to the southward inside Norwegian territorial waters. It is possible for the City of Flint to remain inside Norwegian and Swedish territorial waters until she enters the Baltic."

The Admiralty gave no hint whether the British ships would attempt to seize the City of Flint before she reached a German port in possession of her German captors.

NAZI ASSURANCES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The German government gave the United States today formal assurances that the safety of the American crew aboard the seized freighter City of Flint would be respected.

Alexander C. Kirk, U.S. charge d'affaires in Berlin, cabled the State Department that a foreign office official had informed him the foreign office had requested the appropriate German naval authorities to respect the wishes of the American government.

The wishes referred to were set forth in a communication presented to Berlin and London governments Tuesday by American diplomats expressing the United States government's concern for the safety of the American crew of 40 men under Captain Joseph Gairard.

The U.S. government also expressed its expectation all belligerents would take precautions to avoid exposing the American crew to unnecessary danger.

The German official said he had no doubt all precautions would be taken by the German prize crew aboard the City of Flint to avoid any unnecessary risk.

Admiralty Court

VANCOUVER—In adjourning trial of a $4,800 wage claim against the fish packer Silver Horde yesterday, Chief Justice Archer Martin ordered the Canadian Fishing Company to pay expenses of the claimant, Irwin N. Chobberg, and his witness in coming to Cascade Bay near Shuswap on the north end of Vancouver Island.

The company, as holder of an $8,000 mortgage on the Silver Horde, is opposing Chobberg's wage claim.

Another case is the claim of British Columbia Bridge and Dredging Company Limited, for $1,077 against the steam tug Cleof for damage caused April 22, 1936, when a boom of logs bolted with the dredge Georgia in the channel approaching the Fraser River North Arm. Mr. Hossie and Ghent Davis are defending the action.

Another action scheduled for hearing arose from collision last June 13 between the Turenga, Frank R. Stuart's sailing yacht,

Wheat

WINNIPEG—Moderate gains were scored by wheat futures prices on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today as export interests made excellent purchases in the pit. Trading was more lively than for some time and at the finish quotations were 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher November at 69, December 70, May 75 and July 76 1/2.

Exporters were credited with purchasing more than 2,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat in the pit.

Mills displayed an active interest in the top northern grades of cash wheat. In the coarse grain pit trading was quiet.

Modern Athens is Larger Than Ancient City

There was a time when Greece led all the world. Her people were the best writers, the greatest thinkers and the most skillful artists of their time. That time passed more than 2,000 years ago. The country fell under the power of Rome, and its glory faded.

Greek men wearing old costumes at celebration of Greek freedom from Turkey.

Today Greece is one of the small countries of Europe. In area it is about one-fourth as large as France, and it has about one-sixth as many people as France.

For almost 400 years, Greece was a part of the Turkish Empire. The people were mainly Christians of the Greek Catholic Church, and did not like the rule of the Turks. In 1827 they rose in revolt and won their freedom—with the help of Great Britain, France and Poland.

Since then, Greece has been a kingdom most of the time. It was a republic, however, for a period of 10 years—from 1925 to 1935. Mountains cover a great deal of Greece. Cut by streams and waterfalls, they offer beauty to the tourist.

One of the mountains, known as Mount Olympus, is famous in old Greek myths. The myths say that Olympus was the home of gods and goddesses.

Mount Olympus is in northern Greece, not far from the Gulf of Salonika. Its highest part is not quite two miles above sea level.

The steep slopes of Mount Olympus make it hard to climb. Perhaps this is one reason why the myth grew about its being the home of Zeus, Hera and other beings who were supposed to feast on "nectar and ambrosia." To this day, not many persons have climbed to the top of the mountain. Plans have been made to turn it into a national park.

Athens, the capital, has a long history, of which the people are proud. Its written records go back more than 2,500 years.

The present population of Athens is close to 500,000. It contains about twice as many people as lived there when it was "the greatest city of the world."

Athens has a fine climate, and her residents spend a great deal of their time out-of-doors. They like to sit at tables in the open air, drinking ice water or Turkish coffee. Turkish coffee is usually served in small cups. It is very strong.

HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, November 4

Adverse aspects rule today which is not especially important in planetary direction. In the early hours there may be disinclination to face facts, especially where one's faults are concerned. The sway is not auspicious for bankers or merchants.

While this configuration prevails there may be a tendency toward deceit and double-dealing. Treachery is indicated among persons who have social ambitions. Philanthropic organizations will afford women an opportunity to attain prominence. Girls will do well to train for serious professions that contribute to human welfare.

Government regulations may become irksome to small business men. Banks will exercise caution in granting loans for new enterprises. Girls will benefit by training for occupations usually pursued by young men. Demand for nurses, automobile mechanics, telegraph and radio operators will be great in coming months.

Inflation will arouse wide discussion as financial problems become pressing. The conservation of national resources will receive widespread attention through the coming winter. Public officials will be praised and blamed, according to varying points of views.

The tool of war will become more serious. Gradually it will become apparent that the United States must interfere. Despite isolation propaganda it may be necessary to make contributions of men as well as money and supplies to the armies that are fighting for democracy.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am engaged to a splendid young man and we are both very much in love, but it is financially impossible for us to be married until he is firmly established in the job that has been promised to him. And that time may be far off. This is my problem: On our dates we don't have the fun we used to, for we are both unhappy and discouraged at the thought of how far distant our wedding day may be. I am even beginning to dread our dates, although I always want to be with him, and I am afraid he feels the same way. What can I do to keep his love and regain our former happiness?

HAZEL

Answer: Probably what you are experiencing is the reaction that always comes after any matter is definitely settled. You have been keyed up to a high pitch emotionally during your courtship, wondering if you were really in love; wondering if the boy friend was really in love with you; wondering if he would propose; hoping, praying that you would get your heart's desire; counting your heartbeats. And then, when everything was settled and you had had your family's blessing and the excitement was all over, it left you feeling a little flat.

The same thing happens in every marriage. Probably there never was a couple who, after they got home from their bridal trip and combed rice out of their hair, didn't go through a period of feeling that marriage wasn't what it was pressed-agent-to-be, and wondering if they hadn't made a mistake in their choice of life partners. But this passes as soon as they realize that what's the matter with them is not a change of heart but a change of altitude. They have been living on sentimental heights and they are all right as soon as they get down to the low grounds of everyday living.

TOLERANCE TALK

There is no more important trait of character for a person to develop than tolerance, Dr. W. J. Sippell said to members of the Rotary Club at luncheon yesterday.

"If ever this war-torn world should want to find peace and stability it will have to do so through the way of the Nazarene," the speaker said. Every day countless wrongs were being done and it was difficult for one to forgive the bombings and torpedoes of helpless women and children by aggressive nations, yet it was necessary not to let moral indignation muddle thinking, Dr. Sippell continued.

The speaker said that men should develop minds akin to the modern highway, able to carry more than one lane of traffic at a time.

Fear of starvation in an overcrowded land had caused the Japanese to commit crimes that were horrifying. This did not justify them in the least.

Germans thought and ate as we did and we should try to put ourselves in the other fellow's place to try to see his viewpoint. Unfortunately the Germans had been misled. They supported Hitler because he promised to give them, and did give them, what others had failed to give.

"We must not get the opinion that the present war will eliminate dictators. The last war gave us dictators and who knows, the present one might reap a worse crop. We should pray to God that the present war will cease before it goes too far," Dr. Sippell said.

The speaker was thanked on behalf of the members by Walter Luney, the president.

Announcement was made of the annual prizegiving dinner to be held in the Saanich Agricultural Hall on Friday, November 10. Prizes will be given to the children who have grown the best seeds, in a contest sponsored by the agricultural committee of the Rotary Club of Victoria. Tickets may be obtained from the members.

Contract Entered Into for Gymnasium

DUNCAN—Duncan consolidated school board meeting Wednesday evening considered a recommendation from the gymnasium committee that the contract for the east extension of the gymnasium be awarded to O. C. Brown, at a figure of $1,445.20. A proposal was put forward for the completion of the whole building as originally planned. Finally a resolution was passed that the gymnasium committee be authorized to enter into a contract with Mr. Brown for this completion, if possible, as soon as the necessary funds are in the hands of the board. S. P. Birley of Victoria will be retained as architect. It was decided that in the event of the City of Duncan and the municipality of North Cowichan agreeing to contribute towards the plan, immediate application be made to the department of education for a grant of 25 per cent of the cost of the eastern extension.

A report was received from the transportation committee, recommending that the board enter into a five-year contract with J. A. Kyle for the operation of two 50-passenger buses for the transportation of school children over two routes, and that the remaining routes be carried on by one-year contracts with the Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

The question of providing radios in the elementary school was referred to the supplies and finance committees.

Trustees Smythe and Burrows and Mrs. Leeming were named delegates to the B.C. Schools Trustees' Association convention to be held in Vancouver November 13 and 14.

Maitland Dislikes
C.C.F.'s War Stand

R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative leader, accused the C.C.F. Party in the Legislature yesterday with putting out surreptitious statements deliberately intended to retard Canada's war effort.

After reading various reports of speeches and editorial comment, Mr. Maitland declared: "That influence in these times is a subversive influence. There is only one test for a person's actions in these times. Does it advance or does it retard Canada's effort alongside the Empire? Apply that to these C.C.F. statements and you find only one answer. Their whole purpose is to surreptitiously undermine the spirit of Canada in the war."

Mr. Maitland referred to an editorial in the C.C.F. Federationist which, he said, spoke of the Allies as the "dogs of war." He mentioned a statement by C. Grant MacNeill, M.P., that Canadian unity could not stand armed intervention in Europe every 25 years. He quoted a report of a speech by Colin Cameron, M.P.P., that the main purpose of a Canadian expeditionary force was to whip up sentiment in support of actions that would suppress civil liberties. And he referred to a reported statement of Mayor Lyle Telford of Vancouver that the government would keep prices of food down for no other reason than to fatten men up for cannon fodder.

To get the background for these tactics, he said it was only necessary to go back to a May Day meeting in Vancouver in 1936 when Mayor Telford and Mrs. D. G. Steeves, M.P.P., were the chief speakers at a Stanley Park rally, where the Communists held the spotlight.

COUNCIL RECALLED
"We all know their policies," he said. "Why did Mr. Connell leave them? Because he wanted to get away from the United Front, from the Communists. But they said no, and forced him to leave."

Mr. Maitland said that censorship regulations and all the other war measures invoked by Ottawa were essential to the successful prosecution of the war. The C.C.F. was trying to whip up public indignation over something that did not exist.

The Conservative leader said he had announced his policy of co-operation with the government after the greatest consideration, believing it to be the proper course in helping the country's war effort, just as Conservative opposition leaders in other parts of Canada had done.

"I don't want anyone to think we are, for one instant, abandoning the policies we have advocated for these last few years, and which have made great advances in the hearts of the people. But we say, let us stand aside for the time and see what the government is going to do, see how we can help them," he said.

STANDS FIRM

"There are some people, perhaps, who think I was wrong. I feel I am right. I feel I am doing what should be done by any party in our position. That is why I was disappointed and shocked that the C.C.F. did not adopt a similar stand."

Mr. Maitland said he could see no object gained in the C.C.F. rushing to fight the Cranbrook by-election seat and starting a discussion that could not but affect the confidence of the people.

"I for one refuse to identify the thousands who supported the C.C.F. at the polls with the positions that the members have taken in these last few weeks," he said. "It is easy to capitalize on the misery and suffering of war, just as it is in depression, but I for one refuse to do it."

Reaffirming that he will be the only speaker for his party in the throne speech debate, Mr. Maitland urged the government to adopt a strict policy of economy by cutting out all non-essentials, and to begin organizing already overseas so that mistakes which happened after the last war will not be repeated.

Painting a picture of the loss of freedom which would be bound to ensue if Germany should win the war, he closed by stating: "I speak as a Canadian who sees it as his responsibility to do everything possible to win the war for Canada and the Empire at the earliest possible moment."

HAIG ORDER GOES TO BRITISH MUSEUM

LONDON (CP)—At a moment when the British Army is once more facing the German enemy, interest has been rekindled here in one of the most famous memoranda of the last war—Earl Haig's famous "back to the wall" order.

The autograph draft of the document, order of the day for April 11, 1918, has been acquired by the British Museum through a bequest of the late Sir Philip Sassoon.

Headed "To all ranks of the British forces in France," it was issued at one of the most perilous moments in the history of the Empire.

It can be seen that Haig penned the five paragraphs, occupying 24 lines, with a vigorous hand.

He made three corrections in the text. Having written "in spite of throwing already 106 divisions into battle and suffering," Haig promptly crossed out the last word and wrote "enduring."

In the fourth paragraph he wrote "many amongst us now are weary," then crossed out the "weary" and substituted "very tired" and later, in pencil, deleted "very."

Finally, the order originally ended with the words "of good cheer, the British Empire must win in the end."

This he later crossed out in pencil.

AIR RAID SHELTER
FOR ROYAL FAMILY

LONDON (CP)—If the King and Queen have to take cover in an air raid they will walk into a luxurious room, 25 feet below Buckingham Palace.

They can sit in deep armchairs, listen to a powerful radio set, read their favorite books, work at their desks, or eat meals brought to them from equally well protected adjacent rooms in which the staff will be sheltered.

Originally the shelter was one of several workshops along a long, stone-lined corridor which runs the length of the palace. The rooms were reinforced and the Royal shelter decorated in blue under the Queen's supervision. Air raid precautions officials say it is proof against anything but a direct hit.

Palace air raid warnings will be given by a system of bells ringing simultaneously through the great building. Each department in the palace has its own A.R.P. warden.

No elevator will operate after an air raid warning has been received, as palace authorities conformed to the rule governing all big buildings in London—a rule that all must use staircases after raid warnings, in case power failure catches the elevators between floors.

Peace Crisis
Must Be Faced

Enfranchisement of Asiatics in Canada so long as they measure up to the standards of citizenship was advocated in the B.C. Legislature yesterday by Capt. C. R. Bull, Liberal, South Okanagan.

Speaking in the Throne speech debate, Capt. Bull said the fanatical objection on the part of many people to enfranchising the Asiatics was contrary to the democratic creed of religion and racial tolerance.

At the same time he proposed Canada give the lead in organizing a complete embargo on the shipment of war materials to Japan by getting a conference of the four great democracies on the subject.

While seeing the need for Canada to play her part as ardently in the war as if the enemy were at our gates, Capt. Bull foresaw a much greater task when the war is over to make democracy work.

Capt. Bull said that given a fair show Socialism and Fascism would achieve a degree of economic security for their people not found in the democracies. Democracy could, and must, find a way to the same end.

"When this war is won the defeated nation will face revolution," he said, "and the victorious nations will face internal problems greater than they have ever faced. This peace crisis may be upon us in 6 months, a year or 3 years. The fact of being at war precipitates the future and that is why we must work as never before against the time of the next armistice, or the armistice may be a tragedy. It is not likely that men will again risk their lives to go back on the dele."

Capt. Bull proposed a revision of the financial system that would make democracy work, pointing out that credits would be available for warfare as long as it lasted and could be just as easily made available for peace.

He suggested a revision of Bank of Canada rules so that the bank could make loans without interest to all governments and take over all government debts on a no-interest basis. Eventually this would retire all government debt and force big trusts and insurance companies to put their money into industry.

Commonsense co-operation between business and government was essential for the plan, he said. Business need not employ all men, because it could not, but the government would use all the surplus labor with the aid of its new credits.

Mayor Greig of
Duncan Retiring

DUNCAN—Mayor James Greig intends this year to close his long connection with city administration. He announces he will not run for re-election. Mr. Greig was city clerk from Duncan's incorporation in 1912 to 1934 and has been mayor for the last four years.

Offering himself as Mr. Greig's successor is another man with much experience: Alderman E. W. Lee. He has been on the council for 14 consecutive years. He has been approached by several people, he says, and is ready to allow his name to go forward now that Mr. Greig has decided to retire.

A survey of election prospects this week failed to unearth many other probable changes. Ald. H. S. Fox is the only other City Council member who comes up for re-election and he will run again.

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. S. Connor of Toronto has received word that her son, Aircraftman Bernard Connor, 20, was killed in an airplane crash in Wales last Sunday.

ALLIED SEIZURES
OVER 500,000 TONS

LONDON (CP)—The Ministry of Economic Warfare announced today the Allied contraband control system had "intercepted and detained well over 500,000 tons of contraband suspected of being destined for Germany" since the outbreak of the war.

The figure was announced as reports were circulated in London that Great Britain's contraband control program might be extended to seizure of German exports as well as to goods shipped to Germany.

The ministry commented only that a statement dealing with the question probably would be forthcoming next week. Up to now only goods bound for Germany have been seized.

The announcement today listed British seizures for the first eight weeks of the war at more than 400,000 tons and the French at 105,000 tons.

British Guiana
Boosts Food Crops

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (CP)—British Guiana pushed plans today for economic self-sufficiency during the war by linking its "grow more food" campaign with parallel efforts to eliminate or reduce imports of articles for which substitutes may be found.

Stimulated by government house conferences and public meetings sponsored by Georgetown authorities, villages are putting new acreages into food crops. The government is undertaking to ensure fair prices.

A successful experiment was conducted by bakers who mixed rice with wheat flour. The legislature approved a revolving fund designed to eliminate the annual import of 300,000 pounds of black eye peas.

Experiments are under way for the cultivation of adlay, a tropical grain now being grown in the Philippines. The food content of the adlay variety is rated equal to that of wheat, maize and other grains. The wild variety of adlay grows profusely in several parts of the country.

By successful cultivation of grain, it is hoped further to reduce the consumption of imported wheat flour.

Timber is off the list of imported goods as far as the public works department is concerned. On the credit side of exports, gold production is being maintained and bauxite is setting new records. Good prospects are held also for recovery of the English market for British Guiana charcoal. Currency and gold sale restriction regulations were announced by the government.

NUFFIELD TAKES DIFFICULT POST

LONDON (CP)—Lord Nuffield is settling down to a wartime job which will not keep him from the work he began some time ago—that of giving away a fortune accumulated as a motor manufacturer who began as a bicycle repairman.

Appointed Wednesday as Director-General of Maintenance in the British Air Ministry, to serve with out pay, the philanthropist has the task of "general supervision" over the supply services of the Royal Air Force with a view to their co-ordination with the repair service.

It is an immense work, calling for technical knowledge and, what is even more important, ability to direct men themselves experts in their calling.

But immensity is not new to the 62-year-old industrialist. His business has been immense. His charities have been immense. Between 1923 and 1938 he gave away $80,000,000. And he's still doing it.

The consumption of all kinds of motor fuel increased 1 per cent for the year 1938 over the year 1937.

TRAMP, TRAMP, TRAMP!!!
MR. MOYSTER IS MARCHING!

Look! He's at it again! Mr. Moyster belongs to the large army of called-to-the-telephone marchers. For the umpty-ninth time today he's wanted on the telephone, and unfortunately there's only one telephone in the office. It's on the desk of Mr. Toodler at the end of the room farthest from Mr. Moyster's desk. Of course, Mr. Moyster's calls are business calls, but the endless marching up and down wastes time—Mr. Moyster's time and the time of the firm for which he works. The obvious solution is to have an EXTENSION TELEPHONE on Mr. Moyster's desk.
